Oxford College Mission

Oxford College is dedicated to the goal of excellence in undergraduate liberal arts education. The college endorses the human and academic values inherent in the liberal arts tradition and—as an institution affiliated with the United Methodist Church—the moral and ethical values of the Judeo-Christian tradition. Oxford’s administrators, faculty, and staff—who are responsible for the character of campus life—are dedicated to maintaining Oxford’s longstanding status as a learning community characterized by intellectual vitality and freedom, individual responsibility, personal care, and mutual trust.

Oxford College concentrates its efforts on providing students with opportunities to acquire the skills and knowledge necessary for academic success in courses they may select as upper-division students, and to develop the values that characterize a well-educated person. To achieve these ends, both the curriculum and the cocurricular activities of Oxford College are designed to teach students to read perceptively, think independently, communicate clearly, and embrace responsible citizenship. Thus, Oxford College seeks to create an environment in which motivated students progress toward the kind of intellectual, social, and personal maturity that will help them lead full and useful lives.

Oxford College Profile

Emory University offers two academically equivalent yet distinctively different educational programs for the freshmen and sophomores. Oxford College is located thirty-eight miles east of Atlanta in the village of Oxford, Georgia, on the campus where Emory was founded in 1836. Seven hundred students, one fifth of the Emory freshman and sophomore classes, enroll on the Oxford campus where they pursue a liberal arts intensive program for the first two years of their Emory baccalaureate degree.

Oxford College concentrates on development of students’ intellectual, social, and personal capacities as these are understood in the liberal arts tradition. In their third and fourth years, Oxford students join their classmates on the Atlanta campus where they focus more on their majors and have immediate access to the resources of one of the world’s leading research communities. Oxford College offers the advantages of (1) faculty who come to Oxford because they recognize the transformative potential of the first two baccalaureate years, (2) small classes averaging seventeen students (the largest class is thirty three), (3) challenging yet supportive personal working relationships between faculty and students, (4) an environment that provides extensive opportunities for student participation and leadership, and (5) an exceptionally strong sense of supportive community among students, faculty, and staff.

Oxford’s liberal arts intensive character is expressed more in pedagogy than in curriculum. In-class discussion and debate, problem-based learning, case studies, individual and team research projects and presentations, frequent writing, and detailed analysis of texts are among teaching strategies that the faculty employ. A consistent theme throughout is to compel students to become engaged, active learners so that ultimately they acquire knowledge, skills, and understanding as a result of their own mental effort and discipline. Students are urged to go beyond the syllabus and to think creatively in deepening their knowledge and connecting what they learn in one course with what they have learned elsewhere. These teaching strategies are possible because of Oxford's small classes and the faculty's commitment to working with students as individuals.

All Oxford students live on campus in college housing, and residential life is an integral part of the Oxford educational program and the Oxford experience. Clubs, varsity and intramural sports, student theatrical and musical productions, personal development, and leadership training are among the activities that attract high levels of participation. There is an active program of weekly social and cultural events. Oxford students are generous with their time and concern and serve the Newton County community through Volunteer Oxford, the Bonner Leaders program, and extensive use of service learning in classes. One of Oxford's special assets is the ethnic, racial, socioeconomic, and geographic diversity of its students. The closeness of the Oxford community means that students are quickly known as individuals rather than as representatives of a group, and students report that often their most profound experiences are learning from others who are different from themselves. Oxford students form life-long friendships and say that when they move to the Atlanta campus as juniors, they go with three hundred friends.

Oxford College is unique. Students spend two years in an intimate, challenging, yet supportive community where they develop as scholars and as persons, and then move on to a rich research university environment where the resources and opportunities are essentially unlimited. For many students, it is the perfect combination.

Program of Study

Oxford students who complete the degree requirements (see p. 8), plus elective courses for a total of sixty-seven semester hours (sixty-four non-PE hours plus three PE hours), and do so with a C or better average, automatically are eligible to enter Emory College as juniors. They also receive the associate of arts degree and are eligible to participate in a special commencement ceremony before continuing on to the Atlanta campus.

Oxford College of Emory University is accredited by the commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097; Telephone number 404.670.4501) to award the associate of arts degree. In addition, Oxford College is accredited by the University Senate of the United Methodist Church.

Emory University

From its founding in 1836, Emory has grown into a national teaching, research, and service center with an enrollment of 11,433. A coeducational, private university affiliated with the United Methodist Church, Emory awards more than two thousand degrees annually. In addition to Oxford College, the University comprises Emory College; the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences; a broad program in the allied health professions; and the schools of Business, Law, Medicine, Theology, Nursing, and Public Health.

Among the centers for specialized research and study at Emory are the Graduate Institute of the Liberal Arts; the Division of Biological and Biomedical Sciences; the Carter Center; the Rollins Center for Church Ministries; the Emory Center for International Studies; the Center for Research in Faith and Moral Development; the Center for Ethics in Public Policy and the Professions; and the Michael C. Carlos Museum. Campus-based independent affiliates include the African Studies Association; Scholars Press; the National Faculty for the Humanities, Arts, and Sciences; and the Georgia Endowment for the Humanities.

Emory University maintains exchange agreements with the following universities abroad: Augsburg, Berlin, Göttingen, and Regensburg (Germany); Peking, Xiamen, and Xi'an Medical (People's Republic of China); Institute of State and Law of the Academy of Sciences and the Pushkin Institute (Russia); Tbilisi State (Georgia); St. Andrews (Scotland); Johannes Kepler (Austria); Kobe (Japan); Leiden (Holland); Montpellier (France); and Trieste (Italy).

Emory's Robert W. Woodruff Medical Center includes the schools of Medicine, Public Health, and Nursing; The Emory Clinic; Emory University Hospital; Crawford Long Hospital of Emory University; the Jesse Parker Williams Pavilion; and the Yerkes National Primate Research Center. Independent affiliates located in the vicinity of the medical center include the Georgia Mental Health Institute; the American Cancer Society; Wesley Homes; the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; and the following hospitals: Grady Memorial, Egleston Hospital for Children, and the Atlanta Veterans Affairs Medical Center.

“What we do in college is to get over our little-mindedness. To get an education you have to hang around till you catch on.” —ROBERT FROST

Accessibility

All programs shall be accessible to students with disabilities, as specified by the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Courses of Study

Oxford College students may earn up to seventy-eight of the 132 hours required for the baccalaureate degree. Oxford students who complete a minimum of sixty-seven hours (sixty-four non-physical education hours and three physical education hours) and meet our distribution requirements (cited on p. 8), with a minimum grade-point average of 2.0, receive the associate of arts degree, and thereby qualify to continue as juniors in Emory College.

Summer School

The Oxford Summer School Program is conducted jointly with Emory College on the Atlanta campus. For further information about summer school, contact your academic adviser.

Academic Load and Credit

The standard unit of credit in the semester system is the semester hour. Most courses earn four semester hours credit meeting for 150 minutes a week. However physical education classes earn one semester hour of credit and also meet for 150 minutes per week. Laboratories for science courses meet an additional three hours per week, usually from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Average Load

An average course load is seventeen hours per semester (four four-hour courses plus physical education).

Maximum Load

The maximum academic load is twenty-two hours plus physical education. (Special permission is required for more than nineteen hours. See Overload Procedures for details.)

Minimum Load

The minimum load for a full-time student is twelve hours per semester.

Overload Procedures

Students must receive special permission from the director of academic services to take more than nineteen semester hours. (See criteria on following page.)

Criteria for Overloading (enrolling in more than nineteen hours per semester):

In order to become eligible to overload, a student must complete one semester or more at Oxford and have achieved a 3.0 or higher cumulative grade point average, or be in the last term before graduating and have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0.

Students not meeting the above criteria must receive special permission to overload from the director of academic services by completing the request for overload form with their academic adviser and submitting it to the director of academic services.

Final Exams

Students must have the permission of the associate dean of academic affairs to take an exam earlier or later than scheduled. Permission is normally granted for medical reasons or for participating in educational programs. Leaving early for rides or flights, vacations, relatives' or friends' weddings, graduation, jobs, or having more than one exam on one day, are not considered valid reasons to request an earlier or later exam. Requests must be in writing and turned in to the Academic Services Office at least fourteen days prior to the scheduled examination date.

Degree Requirements

To receive the AA degree (and thereby qualify to continue to Emory College), students must complete sixty-seven semester hours (sixty-four non-physical education hours and three physical education hours) with a minimum 2.0 GPA and subject to the requirements stated below.

Distribution Requirements

Students must distribute their work as follows:

- A. at least three courses from a list of courses accepted by the Division of Humanities (courses must be from two different departments, and foreign language at the 101 level can be used only if a 102 course in the same language is completed);
- B. at least three courses from a list of courses accepted by the Division of Social Sciences and History (from two different departments);
- C. at least three courses from a list of courses accepted by the Division of Natural Science and Mathematics distributed in accordance with area II (of the General Education Requirements on the following page).
- D. at least three courses from the Division of Physical Education and Dance distributed in accordance with area VI (of the General Education Requirements on the following page).

Note: Certain four-hour courses may be specified by the faculty as credit courses that do not meet distribution requirements. These courses are designated as such in their catalog descriptions and currently include: Business 210 and 211; Computer Science 224; English 101 and 181; Mathematics 110A and 119 (summer school); variable credit courses; and interdisciplinary courses.

General Education Requirements

I. Writing

A. Freshman Writing Requirement: Students must satisfactorily complete either English 101 or English 181 during the first year of their enrollment at Oxford College.

Entering students may be placed into English 100C, in which case they must complete the Freshman Writing Requirement by taking English 101 or English 181 in the semester immediately following their successful completion of English 100C. Students may be eligible to exempt the Freshman Writing Requirement with Advanced Placement (AP) credit, International Baccalaureate (IB) credit, or transfer credit. Students exempted from the Freshman Writing Requirement are still required to take a writing intensive course as a sophomore.

B. Sophomore Writing Requirement: Students must satisfactorily complete a writing-intensive course each year in residence. For the purpose of fulfilling the Sophomore Writing Requirement to be considered sophomores, students must have completed (1a) thirty credit hours with credit from Oxford and approved transfer credit combined or (1b) two semesters of full-time residency (with credit for at least twelve hours per semester), and (2) have completed or exempted the Freshman Writing Requirement.

For the purpose of fulfilling the Sophomore Writing Requirement, students must attain a grade of “C” or better in a writing-intensive course.

II. Natural and Mathematical Sciences

A. Quantitative Methods

Requirement: At least one course in mathematics or computer science.

Description: The requirement will be met in one of the following ways:

1. A calculus course (Math 110B, Math 111, Math 111Z, 112, 112Z, 211),
2. A course in probability and statistics (Math 107 or 207),
3. A computer science course (CS 150 or 170), or
4. Other courses approved by the Department of Mathematics.

B. Natural Sciences

Requirement: At least one course. One course must be taken in the Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics from the departments of Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Astronomy, and Geology.

Note: A course may be used to fulfill at most one distribution requirement.

III. Social Sciences

Note: Oxford College does not have a separate General Education Requirement in the Social Sciences.

IV. Humanities

Note: Oxford College does not have a separate General Education Requirement in the Humanities.

V. Historical, Cultural, and International Perspectives

Students must fulfill requirement B and one of requirements A, C, or D at Oxford College.

A. United States History

Requirement: One course on the history of United States politics, society, or culture.

Description: This course will provide the student with an example of the use of historical methods, introduce the student to the history of the United States, and relate the United States to the rest of the world. Appropriate courses may be offered in several departments.

B. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (non-U.S.)

Requirement: One course covering a significant span of Western thought and providing a broad perspective on European historical forces, cultural traditions, and human values.

Description: Appropriate courses may be offered in several departments or students may elect to take History 101 or 102.

C. EITHER

1. Non-Western Cultures

Requirement: One course covering a non-Western culture or culture area.

Description: Courses must provide a broad perspective on historical forces, cultural traditions, and human values of a major non-Western culture or culture area.

OR

2. Comparative and International Studies

Requirement: One course designed to introduce students to cross-national comparative studies or studies of international institutions and processes.

Description: This requirement is intended to enable students to frame and investigate questions pertaining to comparative studies of society, including social, cultural, economic, political, and other processes and institutions; alternatively, students may satisfy this requirement through a course focusing on global processes and institutions affecting societies in the social cultural, or political realms.

D. Language

Requirement: Each student must pursue study of a language other than the student's language by taking eight credit hours in a single foreign language beyond the level of preparation upon entering college.

Description: This requirement may be satisfied by:

1. Taking two courses at Oxford or at Emory or by
2. Transferring credit from another accredited institution in accord with the rules of transferring credit or by
3. Receiving a four or five on a foreign language or literature Advanced Placement Test and then taking one course at Oxford. Students who receive a four or five on the examination must consult the appropriate department for the appropriate sequential course.

VI. Physical Education

Requirement: Students, including those participating in junior varsity or varsity athletics, are required to take a course in the Division of Physical Education and Dance in at least three of their four semesters in residence. These courses must include one from each of three areas (aquatics, health/fitness, and lifetime activities), unless a student's aquatics placement permits the substitution of a course. A student may take the substitution course in the health/fitness area, the lifetime activities area, or he or she may take lifeguard training (PE 113).

First-year students must complete a physical education course each semester of their first year, unless granted an exemption by the associate dean of academic affairs in consultation with the physical education instructor and/or the chair of the Division of Physical Education and Dance. First-year students may not take two courses in one semester during their first year. The third course must be completed during the sophomore year. Sophomores may enroll in a second course during the same semester only with permission of the chair of the Division of Physical Education and Dance and the associate dean of academic affairs.

VII. Emory Distribution Requirements

It is important also for Oxford College students to familiarize themselves with the catalog for Emory University, as students are held accountable for the information in both catalogs. In addition, the information in the Emory catalog will begin to prepare students for the transition to the Atlanta campus.

Advanced Placement examinations can be used to satisfy General Education Requirements in accordance with college policy.

Special Courses and Programs

Arts at Oxford

Oxford students have many opportunities to participate in artistic presentations in music, theater, visual arts, and dance. One-, two-, and four-credit hour courses are available, depending upon the discipline. Four full-time faculty members coordinate the arts programs: Maria Archetto, music; Camille Cottrell, visual arts; Gayle Doherty, dance; and Clark Lemons, theater. Our students perform in plays, perform in and choreograph dances, sing in the Chorale, create musical compositions, and exhibit visual arts. Many Oxford students successfully major or minor in the arts at Emory College, yet most who participate in the arts at Oxford do so to expand their total educational experience.

Freshman Seminar

Each freshman seminar section of approximately ten to fifteen students is led by one faculty or staff facilitator and one sophomore leader, known as a PAL (Peer Assistance Leader). Seminars meet for nine weeks, are designed to facilitate small group discussion of issues pertinent to living in community, and provide an opportunity to get to know

“There is a vitality, a life-force, an energy, a quickening which is translated through you into action, and because there is only one of you in all time, this expression is unique.

And if you block it, it will never exist through any other medium. . . . The world will not have it.”

—MARTHA GRAHAM

a faculty or staff member and sophomore leader well. Grading for the program is on a satisfactory/unsatisfactory (S/U) basis. A grade of S carries one hour of academic credit but no quality points; a grade of U carries neither academic credit nor quality points.

Lyceum

The Lyceum Committee is comprised of members of the Oxford College faculty and staff. Its goal is to plan academic and artistic events for Oxford College students, faculty, staff, and members of the community. Every academic year, the committee offers a series of lectures on political, social, and religious topics by renowned speakers and presents artistic performances by national and international artists. The Lyceum Committee wishes to highlight the cultural and religious diversity at Oxford College and Emory University. The diversity entails the willingness to forsake prejudice, intolerance, and xenophobia and not only encounter but also understand and embrace the other in a community of learning and mutual trust.

Microbiology for Prenursing Students

Prenursing students may register for HS303 (Microbiology) at the nursing school. Four semester hours of elective credit will be granted to students who complete this course.

Off-Campus Courses

Off-campus programs provide students with the opportunity to combine study with travel. A grade-point average of at least 2.0 is required to enroll in off-campus courses. Although there is no limit to the number of hours a student may take in off-campus courses, no more than four semester hours may be used to fulfill the distribution requirements of any division. These courses involve a combination of on-campus and off-campus study. The off-campus travel portion of a course may be offered during spring break or during the interim period between fall and spring semesters or during the summer. Since these courses are not part of a full-time load, they require tuition charges of $925 per semester hour. Additional costs include living and travel expenses. The following off-campus courses have been offered (see “Course Descriptions” for additional information): Geology 100N (Desert Geology), Geology 200N (Dinosaurs and Their World), Geology 220N (Modern and Ancient Tropical Environments), Geology 235N/English 235N (Geology and Culture in Scotland), and Sociology 215N (Social Problems), Sociology 213R (Social Change in Developing Societies).

Oxford Research Scholars Program

The Oxford Research Scholars Program offers selected students the opportunity to assist faculty members in carrying out their research projects. Faculty in the humanities, social sciences, sciences, mathematics, and physical education interview promising students to acquaint them with the details of the research they will be observing and assisting. The subjects of research have included “The Synthesis of Biologically Active Molecules,” “Stress, Life History and Dental Development in Ugandan Baboons,” “Comparative Gene Structure Analysis of Tobacco Peroxidase Genes,” “The Confederate Daisy Caterpillar,” “Personal Narratives of Women of the Harlem Renaissance,” and “Art and Chance.” Students may also assist faculty who are engaged in research on aspects and components of their teaching. Students chosen as Oxford Research Scholars receive a stipend of $1,000. As program participants, students learn how research within their disciplines leads to knowledge creation, are introduced to current research in their disciplines, and learn how research is organized and funded. Through knowledge of and direct involvement in research, students are provided with a different perspective on learning. Furthermore, students who engage in research during their sophomore year are able to compete successfully with juniors and seniors when applying for summer internships. The Oxford Research Scholars Program reflects the recognition and support by Oxford College of the educational benefits of linking faculty and undergraduate students in the actual doing of research and scholarship.

For more information about the program contact Lucas Carpenter, C.H. Candler Professor English, Oxford College of Emory University, Oxford, GA 30054, 770.784.8301, lcarpen@emory.edu.

Oxford Scholars Program

Each year Oxford College designates a number of its predicted outstanding incoming freshmen as Oxford Scholars. Oxford Scholars include Robert W. Woodruff Scholars, Dean's Scholars, and Faculty Scholars (see "Academic Scholarships"), all of whom are selected on the basis of their grades, curriculum test scores, essays, extracurricular activities, and demonstrated interest. While enrolled at Oxford, these scholars participate in the Oxford Scholars Program.

The Oxford Scholars Program is dedicated to the academic enrichment of Oxford College as well as to promoting a sense of community among Oxford Scholars. Oxford Scholars not only interact with other scholars but also with faculty members who volunteer their time to this program.

The program involves required events such as dinners with faculty, lectures and discussions on significant literary, historical, or artistic topics, an end-of-the-year banquet, and other events of interest. The cultural component exposes scholars to a wide range of cultural events in the local area and in Atlanta, such as plays, concerts, and other cultural activities.

The Oxford Scholars Program is designed to continue scholars' academic and personal development and to make lasting positive contributions to the Oxford College community.

Oxford Studies

Oxford Studies is a one-hour, elective, multidisciplinary course which, through attendance, participation, and written reflection, encourages thoughtful involvement in the cultural, artistic, and educational activities available in our community beyond the confines of the traditional classroom. Students earn credit by attending lectures, panels, musical, theater and dance events and by writing reviews. Oxford Studies supports the college's mission by promoting an engagement with liberal arts issues of shared interest. It is offered every semester and may be repeated for credit.

Pierce Institute for Leadership and Community Engagement

The Pierce Institute for Leadership and Community Engagement supports and/or coordinates nineteen programs that help to prepare thoughtful, committed, and socially responsible graduates of Oxford College. The Pierce Institute helps to provide opportunities for students to assume roles of leadership and service at Oxford College and in the community by integrating academic study, leadership development, and community engagement.

The Pierce Institute is funded by a generous gift from the D. Abbott Turner family, and it sponsors various lectures and programs within its four “Pillars”:

I. Pillar of Community Engagement

- The Bonner Leaders Program for Service Based Scholarships provides service-based scholarships for approximately twenty Oxford students.
- Ethics and Servant Leadership Summer Internship Program promotes the principles of transformative servant leadership.
- Theory-Practice/Service Learning (TPSL) courses integrate the theory of the classroom with actual experiences in the local community.
- Volunteer Oxford (VO) is a student organization that provides Oxford students with service opportunities that enhance learning about themselves and society.

II. Pillar of Leadership

- Experience in Cultivating Excellence in Leaders (ExCEL) is a leadership-training program for sophomores interested in improving, understanding, or developing their leadership abilities.
- The Oxford Student Leadership Program integrates leadership activities with academic coursework. It includes a Leadership Lecture Series that brings to campus experts on leadership who assist students in developing ethical leadership skills and preparing them to assume positions of leadership on campus and in the community.
- Leadership Oxford (LO) prepares student leaders for their leadership duties in campus organizations.
- The Oxford Scholars Program (sponsored in conjunction with the Center for Academic Excellence) is dedicated to the academic enrichment of Oxford College as well as to promoting a sense of community among Oxford Scholars, including leadership development.
- The Pierce Award for Staff Leadership honors those staff members who demonstrate admirable leadership, dedication, and service to Oxford College and its students.

III. Pillar of Global Engagement

- Global Connections is an Oxford College interreligious program run by the Chaplain’s Office that engages students in religious, ethical, and social studies in various communities around the world.
- Journeys of Reconciliation is an interreligious project promoting relationships between Emory University and communities around the world that have a history of violence.
- Off-campus courses such as Social Problems and Social Change in Developing Countries that have significant ethical components.
- Oxford Scholars Travel Scholarships will be awarded (beginning 2008–2009) to Oxford Scholars who are selected to serve as assistant leaders for off-campus courses and programs.

IV. Pillar of the Pierce Program in Religion

- The Pierce Visiting Scholar Program with Oxford University is a faculty exchange program between Oxford College and the University of Oxford in England that brings notable scholars from the University of Oxford to Oxford College for a yearly lecture series.
- The Department of Religion consists of Eve Mullen (Asian Religious Traditions), Florian Pohl (Western Religious Traditions), and David B. Gowler (Biblical Studies).
- The Oxford College Chaplain's Office is directed by Rev. Judy Shema.
- The Pierce Program in Religion Lecture Series brings to campus a number of distinguished lecturers in religious studies or related disciplines.
- Emory Studies in Early Christianity is a book monograph series that investigates early Christian literature in the context of Mediterranean literature, religion, society, and culture. Vernon K. Robbins (Emory College) and David B. Gowler (Pierce Professor, Oxford College) serve as coeditors.
- The Samuel W. Mills Peace Lecture Series is named in memory of Samuel Worley Mills, a former student of Oxford College. The Samuel Mills Peace Lecturer must be a Georgian who has contributed significantly to world peace and understanding.
- The Pierce Professor of Religion, David B. Gowler, is one of the distinguished chairholders of Emory University.

Theory/Practice/Service Learning

Theory/Practice/Service Learning (TPSL) courses were first introduced in 1996 as a way of integrating theory in the classroom with hands-on service in the local community. TPSL courses provide a "living laboratory," deepening students' understanding of the subject studied and developing an ability to reflect on, practice, and apply what is learned in the classroom. Approximately one half of Oxford's student body assumes roles as tutors, mentors, counselors, and advocates to social service agencies, schools and technical colleges, literacy programs, and residential centers for children and adults each academic year.

Academic Honors

Honor List

The honor list is composed of full-time students (twelve or more hours) earning a cumulative average of 3.5 or better.

Merit List

The merit list is composed of full-time students (twelve or more hours) who achieved an average of 3.0 or better for the previous semester.

Alpha Epsilon Upsilon

Established at Oxford in 1906, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon promotes scholastic excellence and fosters friendship among those who achieve high scholastic standing. Students who attain a grade-point average of at least 3.75 after one semester (at least sixteen semester hours) or at least 3.50 after two semesters (at least thirty-two semester hours), or 3.33 after three semesters (at least forty-eight, but not more than sixty, semester hours) are eligible for membership. Students who maintain the minimum grade point average may remain members through graduation from Oxford College.

Phi Theta Kappa

A national honor society, Phi Theta Kappa membership is restricted to students who meet the following criteria: rank in the top 5 percent of the class after two semesters, have earned thirty-two semester hours at Oxford College, and are recommended by the faculty.

Academic Advisers

Every student is assigned a faculty member who serves as that student's academic adviser. Assignments are based on the student's academic interests as indicated at the time of enrollment. Students who wish to change advisers should consult Oxford's director of academic services. Students meet with their adviser periodically throughout each semester. Adviser signatures are required for registration, drop/add, and other changes to a student's enrollment after registration. Advisers will assist students in their transition from high school to college and in their selection of courses, major, and career. While advisers provide assistance, each student is responsible for knowing and meeting the requirements for graduation explained in this catalog.

Emory College Programs of Study

Bachelor of Arts

BA programs are offered in African American studies, African studies, American studies, anthropology, anthropology and human biology, anthropology and religion, art history, art history/visual arts, art history and history, Asian and Asian American studies, biology, chemistry, Chinese language and literature, classical civilization, classical studies, classics, classics and English, classics and history, classics and philosophy, comparative literature, computer science, dance and movement studies, economics, economics and history, economics and mathematics, educational studies, English, English/creative writing, English and history, environmental studies, film studies, French studies, German studies, Greek, history, history and religion, interdisciplinary studies in society and culture, international studies, Italian studies, Japanese, Jewish studies, Latin, Latin American and Caribbean studies, mathematics, mathematics and computer sciences, math/political science, medieval and Renaissance studies, Middle Eastern studies, music, neuroscience and behavioral biology, philosophy, philosophy and religion, physics and astronomy, physics or applied physics, political science, psychology, psychology/linguistics, religion, religion and classical civilization, religion: Judaic studies, religion and sociology, Russian languages and cultures, Russian studies I, sociology, Spanish, theater studies, and women's studies. A co-major is offered in journalism.

Bachelor of Science

BS programs are offered in anthropology and human biology, biology, chemistry, computer science, mathematics, mathematics-computer science, neuroscience and behavioral biology, physics, and applied physics.

Minors

Minors are available in African American studies; African studies; anthropology; Arabic; architectural studies; art history; Asian and Asian American studies; Astronomy; Chinese studies; classical civilization; community building and social change; comparative literature; computer science; dance and movement studies; economics; educational studies; English; environmental studies; ethics studies; film studies; French studies; German studies; Greek; Hebrew; Hindi; history; Irish studies; Italian; Japanese; Japanese studies; Jewish studies; Journalism; Latin; Latin American and Caribbean studies; linguistics; mathematics or applied mathematics; Mediterranean archeology; music; Persian language and literature; philosophy; physics; political science; Portuguese; religion; Russian; science, culture, and society; sociology; Spanish; theater studies; visual arts; and women's studies.

Dual-Degree Programs in Engineering

Offered in cooperation with the Georgia Institute of Technology, the programs provide qualified students the opportunity to earn an arts or science degree from Emory and an engineering degree from Georgia Tech. For the 3-2 program, students normally attend Oxford for two years and Emory for one year, taking a variety of liberal arts courses and completing any of the arts or science majors listed, as well as the basic mathematics and science courses that are prerequisites for all engineering curricula. Specialized course work for the engineering major requires approximately two additional years at Georgia Tech.

Accelerated Master's Program of Emory College

Students may earn the bachelor of arts and the master of arts degrees in English, history, philosophy, political science, or sociology within four years; or, they may earn the bachelor of science and the master of science degrees in biology, chemistry, mathematics, or mathematics-computer science, within four years.

Roberto C. Goizueta Business School

Oxford College students may apply to the bachelor of business administration (BBA) program in their last semester at Oxford. To start in summer or fall, applications for admission must be received by February 15. Applications to start in spring must be received by October 1. All applicants must complete the requirements for the associates degree from Oxford to be eligible for admission to the BBA program. Enrollment in Goizueta Business School is limited; completion of preadmission requirements does not guarantee admission. Admission is competitive and based on academic achievement, essay, leadership, extracurricular activities, and a letter of recommendation. Students seeking admissions should contact Libby Egnor, the BBA director of admission, to learn more about the program. She can be reached at 404.727.4220 or at Libby_Egnor@bus.

emory.edu. Applications for admission are available in the Oxford College Office of Records and Registration or by contacting the BBA Program Office at 404.727.8106. The application can also be downloaded the BBA website at www.goizueta.emory.edu/degree/undergra_a_dl.html.

Before enrollment in the business school, Oxford students must complete ECON 101 (Microeconomics), ECON 112 (Macroeconomics), and the mathematics requirement [MATH 111, 112 (Calculus I and II) or MATH 110A, 180 (Business Calculus) or MATH 112 or AP/BC credit and either MATH 107 or MATH 207 (Statistics). Oxford students may elect MATH 119 in summer school at Emory]. For students interested in Accounting, BUS 211 (Managerial Accounting) should be taken before entry into the business school.

There are also some alternative options for completing the preadmission requirements. Instead of taking MATH 112 (Calculus II), students may take ECON 201 (Intermediate Microeconomics). Some students take advantage of this option because they are considering a double major in economics. Calculus II is not a requirement for an economics major, but ECON 201 is a requirement. Economics 201 will include some calculus. Calculus I is still mandatory for both the business school and the economics major.

If you take MATH 111 and 112, you may take MATH 207 (Probability and Statistics) instead of MATH 107. Some students take advantage of this option because they plan to double major in economics. The Emory College economics department will take Oxford's MATH 207 as equivalent to Emory College's ECON 220, which is a graduation requirement for a degree in economics. The business school will take MATH 207 as equivalent to MATH 107 (a preadmission requirement). Students who do not complete the preadmission courses or Oxford associate degree requirements before entering the program must finish these requirements during the first semester in the BBA program.

Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing

Oxford College students apply to the Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing during their sophomore year. Admission is based on prerequisite coursework taken at Oxford College. The priority deadline to apply for each fall semester varies, and applicants should check the school of nursing website for current dates. All Oxford applicants are required to earn a C or better in each prerequisite course. The $50 application fee is waived for Oxford College applicants.

The specific prerequisite courses required for Oxford students are as follows: Chemistry 100 or 141, Chemistry 120, Biology 121 and 122, Math 107 (statistics), English 101 or 181, History 101 or 102, Psychology 100 and 205, Sociology 101, Health Sciences 303 at Emory (microbiology), three humanities courses including one of the following: art history, civilization/literature in translation, foreign language (except 101 level), music, philosophy or religion, three courses in physical education to include one course in aquatics, health/fitness, and lifetime activities. In addition students must be certified in CPR before beginning the BSN program.

All students seeking to transfer to the school of nursing should complete application forms obtainable from the Office of Admission at the school of nursing at 404.727.7980, admit@nursing.emory.edu or apply online at www.nursing.emory.edu.

Preprofessional Programs and Requirements

The Oxford curriculum provides background for a number of professional programs. Some of these are listed below along with suggested courses for preparation. Students should also contact the professional school of their choice for more specific information as requirements may differ by school. Each student planning to pursue one of these professions should work with his or her academic adviser to plan a program of study at Oxford College.

“The test of a first-rate intelligence is the ability to hold two opposing ideas in mind at the same time and still retain the ability to function.”

Allied Health Professions

Several graduate programs are available at Emory University in allied health fields. The Emory University School of Medicine offers the DPT (doctor of physical therapy) degree through its Department of Rehabilitation Medicine. The master of medical science degree leading to training as a physician assistant is offered in the School of Medicine through the Department of Family and Preventive Medicine. The Medical Imaging program offers a BMSc in medical imaging. The Rollins School of Public Health offers additional degree options in several areas leading to a master of public health degree. More information on these programs and their entry requirements is offered through the Emory University website.

Dentistry

Students may take their pre dental requirements at Oxford and apply to dental schools of their choice. Most dental schools require the following courses in addition to a bachelor's degree: Biology 141, 142; Chemistry 141, 142, 221, 221L, 222, 222L; two English courses; Mathematics 111 or equivalent; and Physics 141, 142.

Engineering

Students may take their pre-engineering requirements at Oxford and apply to engineering schools of their choice. For most schools, the requirements include Chemistry 141, 142; Mathematics 111, 112, 211, 212; Physics 151, 152; and social science and humanities electives.

Law

A bachelor's degree, including a well-rounded liberal arts education, is required for admission to Emory University School of Law, but no particular curriculum is prescribed.

Medicine

The Emory University School of Medicine requires the bachelor's degree and the following courses: Biology 141, 142; Chemistry 141, 142, 221, 221L, 222, 222L (260 recommended); two English courses; and Physics 141, 142 (or 151, 152).

Pharmacy

Students may take prepharmacy requirements at Oxford and apply to pharmacy schools of their choice. For most schools, the prepharmacy requirements are the following: Biology 141, 142; Chemistry 141, 142, 221, 221L, 222, 222L; Mathematics 111; Physics 141, 142; English 181; Economics 112; History 133; Political Science 100; and literature and social science electives.

Theology

Students preparing for the Christian ministry should seek a broad liberal arts education. Admission to the master of divinity program in Candler School of Theology requires a bachelor of arts degree, bachelor of science degree, or equivalent.

Veterinary Medicine

Students may take preveterinary requirements at Oxford and apply to veterinary schools of their choice. In general, the preveterinary requirements are the following: Biology 141, 142; Chemistry 141, 142, 221, 222; English 181; Physics 141, 142; and humanities and social science electives.

In the following course descriptions, you will note that courses normally earn four semester hours of credit. The 100-level courses are general or survey courses, and most of the 200- and 300-level courses have such courses as prerequisites. The syllabi for some of the courses described below can be found on the Oxford website at www.emory.edu/OXFORD/Academics/ClassList.html.

Humanities

Professors Carpenter, Gowler, Lemons, and Linville; Associate Professors Anderson, Archetto, Cottrell, Ivey, Loflin, Nisbet, and Schulz; Assistant Professors Barber, Bayerle, Kress, Mullen, Percoco, and Pohl; and Lecturers Davis and Bell.

The Division of Humanities offers introductory and upper-level courses in art, film, foreign languages, literature, music, philosophy, and religion. The division encourages students to evaluate and appreciate our literary, artistic, philosophical, and religious heritage.

Three Humanities Division courses, taken in at least two departments, fulfill the college's distribution requirements (see "Distribution Requirements," p. 8.) English 100C, 101, and 181 cannot be used to satisfy the humanities requirement. Foreign languages at the 101 level cannot be used to fulfill this requirement unless 102 or higher is completed. English 399R, Music 300R, and Music 300V may not be used to fulfill the distribution requirements in the Humanities Division.

Students graduating from Emory College must have completed two semesters of work in a foreign language. Students are encouraged to complete this requirement at Oxford so that they may concentrate on work in their chosen major during the junior and senior years.

ARABIC

Arabic 101. Elementary Arabic

Fall. Credit, four hours. Develops reading, speaking, listening, writing, and cultural skills in Arabic. Stresses communication skills in formal Arabic and some Egyptian dialect. The aesthetic, historical and technical aspects of major art forms, including painting, architecture, drawing, and sculpture, will be studied in relation to the socioeconomic and political developments in Western civilization.

Art 102. Art and Architecture from the Renaissance through the Early Twentieth Century

Spring, four hours. This course will function as an historical survey of the visual images that exemplify the philosophical and aesthetic concepts that shaped western culture from the Renaissance through the early twentieth century. The aesthetic, historical and technical aspects of major art forms, including painting, architecture, drawing, and sculpture, will be studied in relation to the socioeconomic and political developments in Europe and the United States.

Art 266. Contemporary Visual Arts

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Art 101 or 102. This course will function as an historical survey of the visual images that exemplify the philosophical and aesthetic concepts that shaped Western culture from the avant-garde developments in the visual arts from 1945 to present. The aesthetic, historical, and technical aspects of major art forms including painting, architecture, drawing, photography, video site-works, and sculpture will be studied in relation to the socio-economic and political developments in Europe and the United States. Movements and tendencies include Abstract Expressionism, pop art, color-field painting, minimalism, conceptual art, post-minimalism, earthworks, postmodernism, and feminist art.

Art 299R. Independent Study

TBA. Variable credit. Prerequisite: permission of instructor. The student will complete a specific individual project designed in consultation with a professor. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements in humanities.

Art 369. The Birth of Modernism

Spring. Credit, four hours. The course will cover the major artistic movements and developments in Europe and America from 1863 through the 1960s.

Studio Courses

Art 104. Drawing I

Fall, Spring. Credit, four hours. This course develops skills in representational drawing as foundation for all disciplines and as an art form in itself. The student will draw from various subject matter and explore a variety of media, techniques, and concepts. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the formal elements (line, shape, value, and texture) as they relate to the principles of visual organization (harmony, balance, rhythm, and repetition, movement, dominance, and proportion). The foci of the studio will be the exploration of the formal elements of art in relation to constructing strong compositions and the study of the aesthetic, physical, and psychological properties of value and texture.

Art 105. Drawing and Painting I

Fall and Spring, four hours. This course serves as an introductory studio course of descriptive drawing and painting (to draw and paint what is visually observed by the artist). The foci of the studio will be the exploration of the formal elements of art in relation to constructing strong compositions and the study of the aesthetic, physical and psychological properties of color and value.

Art 205R. Drawing and Painting II

Fall and Spring, four hours. ART 205R serves as an advanced studio course of descriptive drawing and painting (to draw and paint what is visually observed by the artist). The foci of the studio will be the conceptual development of iconography, the continued exploration of the formal elements of art in relation to constructing strong compositions and the study of the aesthetic, physical, and psychological properties of color and value, the mastering of media and the refinement of artistic styles.

Art 305. Advanced Drawing and Painting

On demand. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Art 205R. This course is designed to further develop students' skills with progressively more sophisticated assignments, leading to the students' ability to develop a personal and independent body of work for exhibition. The foci of the studio will be the conceptual development of iconography, the exploration of the formal elements of art in relation to constructing strong compositions, and the study of the aesthetic, physical, and psychological properties of color and value. Students will continue to explore the formal elements (line, shape, value, texture, and color) as they relate to the principles of visual organization (harmony, rhythm and repetition, movement, dominance, and proportion).

Spanish 300. Reading in Spanish: Texts and Contexts

Spring. Credit, four hours. The foundation course for the major and minor. A course in Hispanic cultural literacy that also strengthens written and oral language skills. Satisfies Oxford College sophomore writing requirement. This course must be completed on campus at Oxford or Emory College and cannot be completed abroad.

Spanish 375R. Topics in Latin American Literature

TBA, with permission of instructor. Credit, four hours. The historical, political, and sociological background of Latin American literature. Specific topics to be announced when the course is offered. May be repeated for credit when topic varies.

Spanish 376R. Topics in Spanish Literature

TBA, with permission of instructor. Variable credit, one to four hours. The historical, political, and sociological background of Spanish literature. Specific topics to be announced when the course is offered. May be repeated for credit when topic varies.

SPANISH COURSES IN TRANSLATION

Spanish 280R. Topics in Spanish Civilization and Culture in Translation

(Same as Humanities 280R) Credit, four hours. Topics to be announced when course is offered. No knowledge of Spanish required. Readings and discussion in English. May be repeated for credit when topic varies.

Spanish 281R. Topics in Latin American Civilization and Culture in Translation

(Same as Humanities 281R) Credit, four hours. Topics to be announced when course is offered. No knowledge of Spanish required. Readings and discussion in English. May be repeated for credit when topic varies.

THEATER STUDIES

Theater Studies 101. Introduction to Theater

Fall. Credit, four hours. A theoretical and practical introduction to theater as a collaborative art. Includes script analysis, study of types of drama, and basic instruction in acting, improvisation, stage design, and technical theater.

Theater Studies 121. Introduction to Acting

Fall or spring. Credit, four hours. Limit sixteen. It is a hands-on, nuts-and-bolts course in acting technique that also requires written and verbal reflection. The course introduces the student to the following: warm-ups, improvisation, theater games, character study including written character sketches, scene work, collaborative presentations, and a final public performance that coalesces around one theme or one play. Students receive regular feedback from the instructor. Students read and study complete plays in order to create characters for scenes.

Theater Studies 200R.

Fall, spring. Variable credit. Prerequisite: previous theater experience at Oxford and permission of instructor. Advanced work in theater to include one or more of the following: directing, lighting, set design, and playwriting. May be repeated for credit.

Theater Studies 215. History of Drama and Theater I

(Same as English 215) Spring. Credit, four hours. A general history of the theater from its origins through the eighteenth century, focusing on representative dramatic works and on the actor, staging, and audience as they have influenced the development of drama and the theater. May be taken without Theater 216. Required of theater studies majors.

Theater Studies 216. History of Drama and Theater II

(Same as English 216) Fall. Credit, four hours. A general history of the theater from the eighteenth century through the twentieth century, focusing on representative dramatic works and on the actor, staging, and audience as they have influenced the development of drama and the theater. May be taken without Theater 215. Required of theater studies majors.

Natural Science and Mathematics

Professors Baker and Carter; Associate Professors Bailey, Chen, Henderson, Jacob, Parker, Rogers, and Saadein; Assistant Professors Eichler, Ma, Seitaridou, and Yeomans; Senior Lecturers Frady, Harmon, Riner, and Wade; Lecturer Oser.

The Division of Natural Science and Mathematics includes astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology/geosciences, physics, mathematics and computer science. Three four-semester-hour courses are required, distributed as follows: (1) One course in mathematics or computer science which can be a calculus course (Math 110B, 111, 112, 112Z, 180, 211, 212), a course in probability and statistics (Math 107 or 207), a computer science course (CS 170), or a course approved by the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science (Math 109, 120, 125, 221, or 250); (2) One course in the natural sciences that can be an astronomy course (Astr 116), a biology course (Biol 111, 120, 121, 122, 135, 141, 142, 235, 242, 245), a chemistry course (Chem 100, 120, 141, 142, 221, 222, 260), a geology course (Geol 141, 142, 250, 100N, 220N, 235N, Geosciences 115), or a physics course (Phys 141, 142, 151, 152); (3) One additional course from one of the above categories or a course approved by the Division of Natural Science and Mathematics (list available at registration). Students who are placed in Math 100C must take and pass this course prior to taking any other mathematics, Biology 141, chemistry, or physics course for graduation requirements and prior to receiving any AP or transfer credit. Students may not withdraw from Math 100C.

Placement recommendation into any science or mathematics course is contingent on student performance on standardized tests, grades in high school, and the calculus placement test taken upon arrival on campus. A student who anticipates concentrating in natural science at Emory should take a minimum of two courses in his or her chosen field, two courses in an allied science, and basic mathematics courses at Oxford.

Tutors and Supplemental Instructors

In the Division of Natural Science and Mathematics, some of our best students (usually sophomores) serve as tutors, laboratory assistants (TA), and supplemental instructors (SI).

Tutors are available in the evenings (Sunday through Thursday) and on some afternoons to help students with homework. The mathematics department provides student tutors for Math 100C, 107, 110AX, 110A, 110B, 111, and 112.

Student assistants (TAs) are used in science, computer science, and mathematics laboratories. Depending on the agreement, these laboratory assistants may hold study sessions, help students study for tests, or tutor at night.

Supplemental Instructors (SI leaders) are students who have successfully completed the course for which they are SI leaders. Each SI leader attends the class for which they are assigned and holds one to two study sessions per week to help students learn how to study for the course. These sessions are voluntary. SI leaders are usually available for the following classes: Biology 141, 142, 143, and 242. Chemistry 141 and 142, Physics 141, Mathematics 107, 110A, 110B, 111, and 112.

BIOLOGY

Biology 111. Environmental Science with Laboratory

Fall, spring. Credit, four hours. Basic ecological concepts, study of ecosystems and application of ecological principles to local and global environmental problems. Equivalent to ENVS 131 for environmental studies majors. This course does not fulfill requirements for the biology major. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Biology 120. Concepts in Biology with Laboratory

Spring. Credit, four hours. Principles of genetics, evolution, and physiology with special reference to contemporary life situations. Intended for nonscience majors. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week. This course does not fulfill requirements for medical and dental schools. Biology 120 is not open for students who have credit for Biology 141.

Biology 121, 122. Human Anatomy and Physiology I and II with Laboratory

Fall, spring. Credit, four hours each semester. Prerequisite: for Biology 122, Biology 121. These courses emphasize the structure and function of the human body and use a systemic approach incorporating both anatomy and physiology. Biology 121 includes a survey of body tissues and the muscular, skeletal, and nervous systems. Biology 122 continues with the endocrine, circulatory, respiratory, immune, digestive, urinary, and reproductive systems. Labs in both courses involve dissection, study of human specimens, and basic experiments in physiology. The two-course sequence is required for prenursing and for many allied health programs. Interested students and those planning study in anthropology, psychology, kinesiology, recreation, or physical education would find these courses helpful. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week. Does not fulfill requirements for the biology major.

Biology 135. Plants and Society with Laboratory

Fall. Credit, four hours. Basic principles of botany. Emphasis on uses of plants by cultural groups worldwide. Includes medicine, food, materials, biotechnology, environmental issues, and more. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week. This course counts toward the environmental studies major. It does not fulfill requirements for the biology major.

Biology 141. Cell Biology and Genetics with Laboratory

Fall, spring. Credit, four hours. No prerequisites; freshman placement recommended. The study of cell structure and function including cellular metabolism, fundamentals of genetics, evolution and population genetics. Emphasizes scientific inquiry. Three hours of lecture and one three hour laboratory per week.

Biology 142. Advanced Topics in Genetics and Molecular Biology with Laboratory

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Biology 141. Genetic mechanisms in bacteria, viruses and eukaryotes including regulation of gene expression, gene interaction, control of cell division, and development. Emphasizes research questions, techniques, and applications. Three hours of lecture and one three hour laboratory per week.

Biology 235. Field Botany with Laboratory

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: one biology course or permission of instructor. Study of plants in their natural habitats, including plant morphology, ecology, and ethnobotany. Students need to have a basic understanding of plant structure. This course counts toward the biology and environmental studies majors. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Biology 242. Animal Architecture and Physiology with Laboratory

Fall. Credit, four hours. Prerequisites: Biology 141 or permission of instructor. Architecture, physiology, behavior and evolution of major invertebrate phyla and the chordates. Course includes field and laboratory investigations with living organisms and dissections of preserved specimens. This course counts toward the biology major. Three hours of lecture and one three hour laboratory per week.

Biology 245. Freshwater Ecology with Laboratory

Fall. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: one biology course or permission of instructor. The study of basic ecological processes and organisms present in freshwater ecosystems. This course counts toward the biology and environmental studies majors. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Biology 285R. Special Topics in Biology

Variable credit. Prerequisite: permission of instructor. Seminar or advanced course in selected biology topics. May be repeated for credit when topic varies. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements in natural science and mathematics.

Biology 299. Independent Study

Variable credit. Prerequisite: permission of instructor. Independent study for students who have taken at least one course in biology. Requires an independent project. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements in natural science and mathematics.

CHEMISTRY*Chemistry 100. Introductory Chemistry with Laboratory

Fall, spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 100C or placement in a higher numbered math course. Introduction to chemistry and its applications. Topics include matter, energy, gases, solutions, and acids and bases, with some quantitative problem solving. Students meet for three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory per week. This course is designed primarily for prenursing students and non-science majors. Chemistry 100 is not open to students who have credit for Chemistry 141.

Chemistry 141. General Chemistry I with Laboratory

Fall, Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 107, 110A, or 110AX, or permission of the chemistry department as stated in placement information. Students who need to take Math 100C must complete that class before taking any of the above math classes. Laws and theories of chemistry, atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, stoichiometry, gases, liquids, solids, and properties of solutions. A working knowledge of algebra is required. Three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory per week. Chemistry 141 is not open to students who have credit for Chemistry 141Z.

Chemistry 141Z. General Chemistry I with Laboratory

TBA. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 107, 110A, or 110AX, or permission of the chemistry department as stated in placement information. Students who need to take Math 100C must complete that class before taking any of the above math classes. Laws and theories of chemistry, atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, stoichiometry, gases, liquids, solids, and properties of solutions as they apply to problems of environmental sustainability. A working knowledge of algebra is required. Three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory per week. This course is equivalent to Chemistry 141 and therefore fulfills the Chemistry 141 requirement for the chemistry major and any other science major or professional track; for environmental studies majors, this course not only fulfills the Chemistry 141 requirement but also counts as an environmental studies focus course. Chemistry 141Z is not open to students who have credit for Chemistry 141.

Chemistry 142. General Chemistry II with Laboratory

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Chemistry 141 or 141Z. Equilibrium, kinetics, acids and bases, electrochemistry, chemical properties of metals and nonmetals, and qualitative analysis. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Chemistry 221. Organic Chemistry I

Fall. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Chemistry 142. Classes of organic compounds, bonding, stereochemistry, structure and reactivity, nucleophilic substitution reactions, and elimination reactions. Three hours of lecture per week.

Chemistry 221L. Basic Organic Chemistry Laboratory I

Fall. Credit, one hour. Taken with Chemistry 221. One three-hour laboratory per week.

Chemistry 222. Organic Chemistry II

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Chemistry 221. Classes of organic compounds, electrophilic aromatic substitution reactions, and nucleophilic aromatic substitution reactions. Three hours of lecture per week.

Chemistry 222L. Basic Organic Chemistry Laboratory II

Spring. Credit, one hour. Prerequisite: Chemistry 221L. Taken with Chemistry 222. One three-hour laboratory per week.

Chemistry 260. Quantitative Analytical Chemistry with Laboratory

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Chemistry 221 or permission of instructor. Analytical techniques including atomic and molecular spectroscopy, gas and liquid chromatography, and electrochemistry. Statistical analysis of chemical data, including model-fitting using regression. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Chemistry 285R. Special Topics in Chemistry

TBA. Variable credit. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. Seminar, or advanced course in selected chemistry topics. May be repeated for credit when topic varies. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements in natural science and mathematics.

Chemistry 297R. Independent Study

TBA. Variable credit. Prerequisite: at least one course in chemistry and permission of instructor. Independent study under the direction of an Oxford College chemistry faculty member. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements in natural science and mathematics.

Chemistry 299R. Independent Laboratory Research

TBA. Variable credit. Prerequisite: at least one course in chemistry and permission of instructor. Independent laboratory research under the direction of an Oxford College chemistry faculty member. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements in natural science and mathematics.

GEOLOGY*Geosciences 115. Meteorology and Climatology with Laboratory

Spring. Credit, four hours. No prerequisite. The nature of the atmosphere, meteorological processes, and climatic regions of the world, including botanical zonation and climatic factors influencing people and nations. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Geology 141. Physical Geology with Laboratory

Fall. Credit, four hours. No prerequisite. Introduction to planet earth: fundamental concepts of geology developed through the study of minerals, rocks, plate tectonics, volcanoes, and forces shaping the earth's surface. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour lab per week.

Geology 142. Evolution of the Earth with Laboratory

Spring, alternate years. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Geology 141. History of the earth in the context of changing environments. Special emphasis on the methods of analysis, environments of deposition, and organic change as seen through fossils. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Geology 297R. Independent Study

TBA. Variable credit. Independent study for environmental studies majors who have taken Geology 141 and 142 or Geology 141 and 250. Requires an independent project approved by the instructor. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements in natural science and mathematics.

Geology 250. Mineral Resources, Energy, and Power with Laboratory

Spring, alternate years. Credit, four hours. No prerequisite. Emphasis on the geologic nature of nonmetallic, metallic, and energy resources. Course includes the historic development, uses, environmental concerns, and future potential of these resources. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

*Geology courses with off-campus componentGeology 100N. Desert Geology

Off-campus course. Summer, alternate years. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: permission of instructor. Additional tuition is required. Study of the climatologic origin and the geomorphology of deserts. Also includes morphological, physiological, and behavioral adaptations to life in a dry environment, and study of the ecological zones and geology of Big Bend National Park. Classes meet weekly during the semester, followed by a twelve-day field trip to Chihuahuan Desert in Big Bend National Park, Texas.

Geology 220N. Modern and Ancient Tropical Environments

Off-campus course. Interim. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Geology 141 and permission of instructor. Additional tuition is required. Field study of modern and ancient tropical environments using the Bahamas Platform as a case study. Geological, biological, and paleontological analysis of terrestrial and marine ecosystems during winter break on San Salvador Island, Bahamas. Classes meet weekly during the semester.

Geology 235N/English 235N. Geology and Culture in Scotland

Off-campus course. Summer. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: permission of instructor. This interdisciplinary course explores the connections between the geological basis of Scottish landscape, history, and literature. Class meets during spring semester followed by field trip to Scotland. Students registering for Geology 235N will do a geological field-based project in Scotland. Students registering for English 235N will do a literature-based project.

PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY*Astronomy 116. Introductory Astronomy with Laboratory

Fall, spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisites: high school chemistry and Math 100C or placement in a higher numbered mathematics course. Fundamental concepts and principles of astronomy. Laboratory weekly; observing session weekly as weather permits.

Physics 141. Introductory Physics I with Laboratory

Fall. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 111 or Math 110A. Elementary course covering the principles of mechanics, heat, thermodynamics, and wave motion. Methods of calculus are introduced and used where appropriate. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Physics 142. Introductory Physics II with Laboratory

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Physics 141. Optics, electricity and magnetism, and atomic and nuclear physics. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Physics 151. General Physics: Mechanics with Laboratory

Fall. Credit, four hours. Corequisite: Mathematics 112 and permission of instructor. A calculus-based introductory course covering mechanics, thermodynamics, and wave motion. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

Physics 152. General Physics: Electricity, Magnetism, and Optics with Laboratory

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Physics 151. A continuation of Physics 151 covering electricity, magnetism, and geometric and wave optics. Three hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory per week.

MATHEMATICS and COMPUTER SCIENCE

Students entering colleges and universities across the country vary considerably in their level of preparation in mathematics. The mathematics department provides to each entering student and his/her adviser a recommendation of which mathematics course or courses the student is prepared to take. This recommendation is based on the student's performance on a calculus placement test given to those students wanting or needing to take calculus, the student's high school record (grade and rigor or level of courses completed), and SAT (or ACT) scores. Students are welcome to have their placement recommendations reviewed by a member of the mathematics faculty.

Some entering students earn credit toward the mathematics requirement through Advanced Placement tests. As a general rule, students may earn credit through Advanced Placement or by completing the comparable Oxford course, but not both. If credit is earned through Advance Placement, then lower level courses in the sequence may not be taken for credit. Specifics are as follows:

AP Statistics Test

- A student earning a score of 4 or 5 on the AP examination in statistics may receive four semester hours of distribution credit but may not get credit for both AP Statistics and Math 107.

AP Calculus Test

- A student earning a score of 3 on either AP Calculus test AB or BC will receive four semester hours of credit for Mathematics 111 if the student is placed in and completes Mathematics 112Z with a grade of C or better.
- A student earning a score of 4 or 5 on the AB test or on the AB subtest of the BC test will receive four semester hours of credit but may not get credit for both AP Calculus and Mathematics 111 (or Mathematics 110A,B).

- A student earning a score of 4 or 5 on the BC test will receive eight semester hours of credit with the single limitation that a student may not receive credit for both the AB and BC examinations. The eight hours will include credit for Mathematics 111 and either Mathematics 112 or four hours of elective credit, whichever is determined to be more appropriate by the mathematics faculty after consideration of high school courses and placement examination results. A student may not receive all eight hours AP Calculus credit and credit for Mathematics 112 but retains the credit for Mathematics 111; a student forfeits all credit for AP Calculus BC for taking Mathematics 111 (or Mathematics 110A,B) for credit.

Mathematics 100C. Introduction to College Mathematics

Fall, spring. Credit, two hours. Registration is by permission of the mathematics department. This course is designed for students who need to strengthen their mathematical backgrounds before entering regular college mathematics courses. The course includes a review of algebra and topics from discrete mathematics. Students attend three hours of lecture and one two-hour special session (laboratory) per week. This course may not be taken for credit by students who have received credit for another mathematics course.

Mathematics 107. Introduction to Probability and Statistics

Fall, spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 100C or permission of the mathematics department as stated in placement recommendations. Basic concepts in counting, probability, hypothesis testing, linear regression and correlation, ANOVA, plus several nonparametric models. Calculator is required.

Mathematics 109. Graph Theory and Math Models

On Demand. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 100C or placement as determined by the mathematics department. Students have the opportunity to confront and solve problems related to graph theory.

Mathematics 110AX or 110A, B. Calculus I with Precalculus

Fall, Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Placement or Math 100C. Math 110AX or 110A is a prerequisite for Math 110B. Math 110 is a two semester-sequence that integrates precalculus into Calculus I with early transcendental functions. Math 110AX meets four days a week, Math 110A meets three days a week. Students are placed in either Math 110AX or Math 110A. At the end of Math 110B the student is prepared to take Calculus II, Math 112. Math 110A does not satisfy distribution requirements. Students receiving credit for Math 110B can not take for credit Math 111, Math 180 or Math 119 (summer school).

Mathematics 111, 112. Calculus I and II

Fall, spring. Credit, four hours each semester. Prerequisite: for Math 111, permission of the mathematics department as stated in placement recommendations. This sequence includes differential and integral calculus of algebraic and transcendental functions of one variable, with applications and infinite series, including power series. Students receiving credit for Math 111 can not take for credit Math 110B, Math 180, or Math 119 (summer school).

Mathematics 112Z. Calculus II

Fall. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: first-year students only, by invitation of the mathematics department in accordance with placement. Topics in Mathematics 112 with a review of introductory concepts.

Mathematics 120. Introduction to Pure Mathematics

Fall or Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 100C or permission of the mathematics department as stated in placement recommendation. Proofs and the foundations of mathematical thought, namely, definitions, axioms, and logic. Specific topics include geometry and number theory. Intended for nonmathematics majors.

Mathematics 125. Codes and Connections: An Introduction to Number Theory

Fall or Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 100C or permission of the mathematics department as stated in placement recommendations. Using secret codes, puzzles, and curious mathematical oddities as motivation, this course explores the elementary concepts behind the theory of numbers and their unexpected connections with other major branches of mathematics. Intended for nonmathematics majors.

Computer Science 150. Introduction to Interactive Programming

Fall. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 100C or permission of the mathematics department as stated in placement recommendations. A service course covering fundamental computer concepts, problem solving using computers, and principles of programming. Three hours of lecture and one one-hour laboratory per week.

Computer Science 170, 171. Introduction to Computer Science I and II with Laboratory

Fall, Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Computer Science 150 or permission of the mathematics department as stated in placement recommendations. Introductory sequence for students starting course work in computer science, covering fundamental computing concepts, object-oriented and procedural programming, and basic data structures. Programming in Java in a Unix environment. Three hours of lecture and one one-hour laboratory per week.

Mathematics 180. Liberal Arts Business Calculus

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Placement or Math 110A. A problem-based introduction to calculus. Conceptual development and history of limits, derivatives, differentials, partial derivatives, and integrals; development of the natural exponential function; in the context of such applications as compound interest, optimization, marginal analysis, income streams. Calculus with Business Applications. Students receiving credit for Math 180 can not take for credit Math 110B, Math 111, or Math 119 (summer school).

Computer Science 224. Mathematical Foundations of Computer Science

Fall, Spring. Credit, four hours. Corequisite: Math 112. This course introduces elementary mathematics necessary for the computer science curriculum. Topics include proof-writing, sets, functions, logic, quantifiers, graphs, automata, and languages. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements.

Mathematics 207. Probability and Statistics

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 112, placement recommendation, or permission of instructor. Development and use of mathematical models from probability and statistics, with applications.

Mathematics 211. Multivariable Calculus

Fall. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 112. Vectors, multivariable functions, partial derivatives, multiple integrals, vector and scalar fields, Green's and Stokes's theorems, and divergence theorem.

Mathematics 212. Differential Equations

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 112. Ordinary differential equations with applications.

Mathematics 221. Linear Algebra

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 112 or permission of instructor. Systems of linear equations and matrices, determinants, linear transformations, vector spaces, and eigenvectors.

Mathematics 250. Foundations of Mathematics

Spring. Credit, four hours. Prerequisite: Math 112. An introduction to theoretical mathematics, logic and proof, sets, induction, abstract algebraic structures, and the real number line.

Mathematics 285R. Special Topics in Mathematics

TBA. Variable credit. Prerequisite: As specified by the instructor. Course in selected topics in mathematics, the history of mathematics, or the connections between mathematics and scientific inquiry not offered in regular or advanced courses or seminars.

Mathematics 297R. Directed Study

TBA. Variable credit. Topics and credit to be arranged. This course does not satisfy distribution requirements in natural science and mathematics.

Computer Science 297R. Directed Study

(Same as Mathematics 297R)

Physical Education and Dance

Professor England; Associate Professors Doherty and Yang; Assistant Professors Hutchinson and Sherman; Lecturers Gonzales and Sabatelle.

The transformative power of Oxford's liberal arts intensive program is enhanced by the physical education program. From Plato's Academy to the present, physical education has been an integral part of a liberal arts curriculum. Using the liberal arts model, physical activity can be profoundly attuned with sustainability, health, and positive social action. The multidisciplinary and multicultural perspectives engaged through Oxford's physical activity classes are characteristic of a quality liberal arts education. Oxford College physical education offers the:

1. Awareness and refinement of the senses
2. Maintenance of wellness and fitness
3. Awareness and management of emotions
4. Joy of movement for its own sake
5. Development of and appreciation for physicality
6. Awareness of the unity of body, mind, and spirit

Students, including those participating in junior varsity or varsity athletics, are required to take a course in the Division of Physical Education and Dance in at least three of their four semesters in residence. These courses must include one from each of three areas (aquatics, health-fitness, and lifetime activities), unless a student's aquatics placement permits the substitution of a course. A student may take the substitution course in the health/fitness area, the lifetime activities area, or he or she may take lifeguard training (PE 113).

First-year students must complete a physical education course each semester of their first year, unless granted an exemption by the dean of academic affairs in consultation with the physical education instructor and/or the chair of the Division of Physical Education and Dance. First-year students may not take two courses in one semester during their first year. The third course must be completed during the sophomore year. Sophomores may enroll in a second course during the same semester only during the drop/add period.

No exceptions are made for the physical education requirement. All students are required to complete a physical activity screening form providing physical education instructors with any medical information pertinent to participation in physical activity. The courses will be adjusted to fit the needs of the student so that the student will be able to meet the distribution requirements (see "Distribution Requirements," p. 8). If a student is incapacitated while enrolled in a course, adjustments for completing the course will be made.

SPECIAL COURSES

Physical Education 199. Directed Study

Fall, spring. Credit, one hour. Independent study of catalog-listed activities at the advanced level. Students must have permission of faculty member to enroll. Activity is planned and executed by the individual student under faculty guidance. May be taken under any of the three areas, but only once. This course does not satisfy area requirements in physical education.

HEALTH/FITNESS AREA

All health/fitness area courses include the topics of nutrition, body composition, and principles of strength, cardiovascular, and flexibility training. Additional topics, specific to each course, are described below.

Physical Education 100. Health/Conditioning

Fall, spring. Credit, one hour. A basic health course that includes physical individual activities to increase cardiovascular fitness. Health concepts will emphasize personal responsibility for the student's well being.

Physical Education 101. Weight Training

Fall, spring. Credit, one hour. Physiological basis of weight training. Skeletal muscle anatomy and physiology. A variety of weight training programs will be used to increase muscular fitness.

Physical Education 102. Fitness Walking

Fall, Spring. Credit, one hour. A basic health course that includes walking for students who need low impact cardiovascular fitness. Students will develop a power walking program to meet individual physical activity goals. In addition, health concepts will emphasize personal responsibility for the student's well being.

Physical Education 103. Fitness Swimming

Fall, Spring. Credit, one hour. Prerequisite: Only those students who have placed out of aquatics, who have successfully taken PE 110 or PE 111 or who have permission of the instructor may enroll in this class. Students should have a well developed freestyle stroke with rhythmic breathing and a nascent backstroke and/or breaststroke. A basic health course that includes swimming to increase cardiovascular fitness.

Physical Education 104. Indoor Cycling/Conditioning

Fall, spring. Credit, one hour. A basic health course using a modified stationary bicycle to simulate outdoor cycling for both novice and experienced cyclists. Involves a general cardiovascular program focused and defined on the biomechanics of indoor cycling.

Physical Education 105. Soccer and Conditioning

Fall, Spring. Credit, one hour. This course focuses on learning fundamental soccer skills, basic soccer tactics, game strategies, and rules.

Physical Education 106. Ultimate Conditioning

Fall, Spring. Credit, one hour. This course focuses on learning fundamental skills, basic ultimate tactics, and rules.

Physical Education 220R. Topics in Health/Fitness

TBA, with permission of instructor. Credit, one hour. Specific topic(s) to be announced when course is offered. Counts toward health/fitness area.

AQUATICS AREA

Students' aquatic placement is based on each student's performance on the Oxford College aquatics placement test during new student's orientation. All students are required to attend placement testing during new student orientation. At the test, students will be assigned as a nonswimmer (PE 110), intermediate swimmer (PE 111), or they will be exempt from the aquatics requirement. Students can enroll only in the classes in which they are placed. Students who are placed out of the swimming requirement are eligible to enroll in Lifeguard Training (PE 113) and/or Fitness Swimming (PE 103).

Physical Education 110. Beginning Swimming

Fall, spring. Credit, one hour. Placement or permission of instructor/aquatics director only. Develops the nonswimmer's skills in basic strokes and personal water safety. The survival stroke and other survival techniques are addressed in this class.

Physical Education 111. Intermediate Beginning Swimming

History and Social Sciences

Professors Lewis, McQuaide, Owen-Smith, and Shapiro; Associate Professors Ashmore, Carter, Cody, Leinweber, and Maddox; Assistant Professor Singer and Stutz.

The need for students to acquire knowledge of the enduring values of Western civilization and of concepts that underlie these values imbues the purpose of the History and Social Sciences Division. This purpose presumes that responsible members of society can develop only from persons who understand their roots and whose convictions are the result of critical thought rather than simple acculturation. This is the foundation for the disciplines of the division, which also provide the academic basis for a variety of professional and vocational options.

Anthropology 397R, Business 210, Political Science 397R, Psychology 397R, Sociology 397R, and History 397R do not fulfill the distribution requirements in history and social sciences.

Libraries

Hoke O'Kelley Memorial Library

The Hoke O'Kelley Memorial Library supports the liberal-arts-intensive curriculum and community of Oxford College of Emory University. The library provides excellent resources, services, and instruction for research, study, and teaching to enhance the intellectual and personal growth of Oxford students during their first two years at Emory University. Oxford librarians provide virtual reference services, such as instant messaging, and walk-up reference and in-depth research consultations.

The library building contains a Learning Commons with computer workstations to access library resources, email, and standard, specialized, and course-specific software. Students may access the campus wireless network throughout the library building and wireless laptops are available for check out to use in or outside the building. The library provides a variety of study space options, collaborative and individual, adapted to student study preferences.

The library's collection contains more than 85,000 volumes and students have access to the extensive print and electronic resources of all the Emory University libraries including more than 44,377 electronic journals and 500 subject databases. The other Emory libraries include: the Robert W. Woodruff Library, the Goizueta Business Library, the James Samuel Guy Chemistry Library, the Hugh F. MacMillan Law Library, the Woodruff Health Sciences Center Library, and the Pitts Theology Library. Interlibrary loan services provide access to materials in all Emory libraries and other libraries in the United States. Extensive electronic course reserves and syllabi are accessible via the library's website. (www.oxford.emory.edu/library)

Information Technology Facilities

Oxford College provides an extensive range of workstations, software, networking, and services to the college community. Student computing services include five diverse information technology labs distributed across campus in Pierce Hall, the library, Humanities Hall, and Jolley Residential Center. The library offers wireless laptop computers for check out. Residence hall rooms have multiple ethernet connections and wireless network access for student-owned workstations. Oxford's digital technology center, Kaleidoscope, is a research and development facility offering specialized technologies and consulting for projects such as digital video editing, QuickTime video/audio streaming, website production, presentation preparation and rehearsal, photographic printing, DVD burning, and more. Secure wireless networking is available across the entire quad, in all residence halls, student center, dining hall, library, Pierce Hall, and Seney Hall.

Some courses are taught in computing labs, technology enabled classrooms, or use wireless laptops; others use technology for special projects or provide instructional software across the network. Student technology instruction is often provided in classes. Oxford's network seamlessly accesses resources across Emory University and the Internet. Students receive Emory networkIDs for email, web hosting, file transfer, administrative functions, and Internet access. Technology consulting is available for class projects, residence hall connections, and general assistance.

During student orientation, students are introduced to the technology resources and provided brief instruction on using the Oxford/Emory network.

Writing Center

The Oxford Writing Center offers tutoring in writing and composition for any class. The tutors are students with diverse majors and interests who can help students with structure, organization, style, and grammar. The center is in the Oxford library and is open twenty-five to thirty hours a week (770.784.8406). Refer to the website at www.emory.edu/OXFORD/Writing Center.

Mathematics Center

The Oxford Mathematics Center, located in Pierce Hall, offers tutoring for all math classes. Paul Oser, lecturer and director of the Mathematics Center, is available for one-on-one help Mondays through Thursdays, and student tutors are available throughout the evenings Sundays through Thursdays. All tutoring is done on a drop-in basis, so no appointments are necessary. Students are encouraged to use the center as a place to do their math homework, asking questions of the director and student tutors as needed.

For further information, a detailed schedule, and additional help for some courses (in the form of written and video tutorials), please refer to the Mathematics Center website at www.emory.edu/OXFORD/academics/mathematicscenter/.

English as a Second Language (ESL)

The English 101 multilingual course offers intensive classroom instruction for one semester to high proficiency students whose first language is not English, followed by out-of-classroom support and one-on-one tutoring through the Writing Center.

Supplemental Instruction

Supplemental Instruction (SI) is an academic assistance program that targets traditionally difficult courses (those with a high rate of Ds, Fs, or Ws), and provides student mentors known as SI Leaders who offer peer-assisted review sessions. Meeting generally twice a week usually in the evenings, these small sessions help students master course content, increase study skills, and improve performance in the selected courses. For further information refer to the website at www.emory.edu/OXFORD/SI/.

Disability Services

Oxford College and Emory University are committed to ensuring that all University goods, services, facilities, and programs are meaningfully accessible to eligible persons with a disability in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act 1973, and other pertinent federal, state, and local laws.

The Office of Disability Services (ODS) is the central clearinghouse which processes and facilitates all accommodation requests from qualified students who have completed the registration process in its entirety.

Oxford College's program functions as a seamless extension of services offered to students at the Emory campus location. The ODS staff is the same with designated (permanent part time) staff at the Oxford campus located in the Student Health/Counseling Center.

Students are responsible for initiating the accommodation request process by self disclosing their disability and/or chronic medical condition directly to ODS.

More detailed information is available on the website at www.ods.emory.edu, or make requests directly to the Office of Disability Services, Emory University, 201 Dowman Drive, University Administration Building, Suite 110, Atlanta, GA 30322, 404.727.9877 (v) or 404.712.2049 (TDD).

Student Health Service

Health Services

Student Health Service, managed by a nationally certified nurse practitioner, includes on-campus evaluation of health problems, care and treatment of illnesses or injuries, laceration repair, sports physicals, pap testing/STD screening, and provision of health/wellness information. Referral to the medical adviser or other physician specialists will be made when situations necessitate further medical evaluation and treatment. Students do not pay for office visits to the Student Health Service but are responsible for costs of special services such as laboratory tests, prescription medicines, and visits to private physicians or clinics and hospital emergency rooms. Fees for special services may be billed through the Bursar's Office. A student may submit charges for lab and supply fees to his/her health insurance company for reimbursement. To obtain more information, students, faculty, and staff may call 770.784.8376 or visit our website at http://oxford.emory.edu/audiences/current_students/campus_life/student_health/.

Required Health Forms

Three health forms are required—the Entrance Medical Record, the Authorization for Use/Disclosure of Protected Health Information, and the State of Georgia Meningococcal Vaccination Acknowledgement Form for Students Living in On-Campus Housing. These three forms are available online at http://oxford.emory.edu/audiences/current_students/campus_life/student_health/required_forms.dot.

Insurance

Emory University requires that all new and continuing degree-seeking students and all international students (including Oxford College) either have health insurance or purchase the University-sponsored plan. In order to waive enrollment in the Emory Student Health Insurance Plan (offered by Aetna/The Chickering Group), students must show evidence of enrollment in a United States–domiciled health insurance plan that meets specific waiver criteria. Students may waive enrollment through their OPUS account prior to July 1.

If you wish to be enrolled in the Emory Student Health Insurance Plan, there is nothing further that you need to do. You will be automatically enrolled in the plan at the conclusion of the waiver period on July 1, and you will receive an insurance card in the mail (at the mailing address that you have on file with OPUS). The Emory/Aetna student plan is an annual plan that provides coverage for twelve months in Atlanta, nationally and internationally. Coverage under the annual plan begins on July 15 for medical students, August 1 for international students, and August 15 for all other students. If you choose to enroll in the Emory/Aetna plan, you will be charged via Student Financial Services (the Bursar's Office).

Counseling and Career Services

Counseling and Career Services offers free, confidential counseling for personal and career-related issues. Services include individual therapy, problem-solving sessions, career counseling and assessment, consultations, referral to appropriate on-campus and off-campus resources, and outreach programming on a variety of mental health and career-related topics. (The only fee for services is a nominal cost of $25 for career testing and materials.) Students also may avail themselves of the Counseling and Career Resource Room, which contains books, computer programs, audio tapes, and videotapes on mental health, study skills, and career-related topics. Refer to the website at www.oxford.emory.edu/audiences/current_students/campus_life/counseling.

Residential Education and Services

In addition to addressing matters related to living arrangements, Residential Education and Services (RES) contributes to student success by supporting academic effort within living communities. RES is dedicated to promoting both personal and academic success by providing activities related to individual growth and leadership skill development.

The residential education program is supported by a staff of student resident assistants and professional residence life coordinators who live in the residence halls and coordinate programming efforts and activities for students. Programming efforts give students opportunities to experience a campus atmosphere conducive to balance between scholastic achievement, leadership, and campus life. RES staff is knowledgeable about available campus resources to assist students in managing their academic load and out of classroom lives successfully.

ORAU

Since 1946 students and faculty of Emory University have benefited from its membership in Oak Ridge Associated Universities (ORAU). ORAU is a consortium of eighty-eight colleges and universities and a contractor for the United States Department of Energy (DOE) located in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. ORAU works with its member institutions to help their students and faculty gain access to federal research facilities throughout the country; to keep its members informed about opportunities for fellowship, scholarship, and research appointments; and to organize research alliances among its members.

Through the Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education (ORISE), the DOE facility that ORAU operates, undergraduates, graduates, postgraduates, as well as faculty enjoy access to a multitude of opportunities for study and research. Students can participate in programs covering a wide variety of disciplines including business, earth sciences, epidemiology, engineering, physics, geological sciences, pharmacology, ocean sciences, biomedical sciences, nuclear chemistry, and mathematics. Appointment and program length range from one month to four years. Many of these programs are designed to increase the number of underrepresented minority students pursuing degrees in science- and engineering-related disciplines. A comprehensive listing of these programs and other opportunities, their disciplines, and details on locations and benefits can be found in the ORISE Catalog of Education and Training Programs, which is available at www.orau.gov/orise/educ.htm or by calling either of the contacts below.

“Think, every day, something no one else is thinking. Do, every day, something no one else would be silly enough to do. It is bad for the mind to be always part of a unanimity.”—CHRISTOPHER MORLEY

ORAU’s Office of Partnership Development seeks opportunities for partnerships and alliances among ORAU’s members, private industry, and major federal facilities. Activities include faculty development programs, such as the Ralph E. Powe Junior Faculty Enhancement Awards, the Visiting Industrial Scholars Program, consortium research funding initiatives, faculty research, and support programs as well as services to chief research officers.

For more information about ORAU and its programs, contact Frank G. Stout, vice president for research administration and ORAU councilor for Emory University; Monnie E. Chapman, ORAU corporate secretary (865.576.3306); or visit the ORAU website (www.oraug.org).

Requirements

First-year student applicants to Oxford must submit entrance credentials indicating graduation from a secondary school with at least sixteen acceptable units of work. Oxford strongly recommends the following:

Subject	Years
English	4
Mathematics (including Algebra II)	4
Foreign language	2
Social studies	3
Laboratory sciences	3

The applicant must also present satisfactory scores on the examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board (SAT: Oxford College code number 5186) or the American College Testing Program (ACT: Oxford College code number 0815).

To receive an application for admission, contact the Office of Enrollment Services, Oxford College, P.O. Box 1418, Oxford, Georgia 30054; 770.784.8328; or visit us online at www.emory.edu/OXFORD.

Application Procedure

Application Fee

A nonrefundable processing fee of $50 must accompany each completed application.

Admission Plans

There are five ways to apply to Oxford College of Emory University.

Early Action

Deadline: November 1. Notification: December 15

The Early Action Program is nonbinding and allows students to learn of their admission decision early in the senior year. While applicants admitted under the Early Action Program may consider Oxford College their first choice, they have until May 1 to make a final decision. Students who apply Early Action to Oxford College may apply to Emory College through the Early Decision I, Early Decision II, or Regular Decision plan. However, if admitted to Emory College through the Early Decision I or Early Decision II plan, you are required to withdraw your application from Oxford College.

Regular Decision

Deadline: January 15 (fall term). Notification: April 1

Deadline: December 1 (spring term). Notification: January 5

Students who select Regular Decision for Oxford College may also select Early Decision I, Early Decision II, or Regular Decision for Emory College. However, if admitted to Emory College through the Early Decision I or Early Decision II plan, you are required to withdraw your application from Oxford College.

Oxford Scholars ProgramDeadline: November 1. Admission Notification: December 15

Students who apply for the Oxford Scholars Program must also select Early Action or Regular Decision. Student may nominate themselves for merit scholarships on the admission application (no supplement or nomination for is required).

Early AdmissionDeadline: January 15. Notification: April 1

Academically exceptional students wishing to enter college after completing the eleventh grade may apply for early admission. Candidates are expected to complete all requirements for regular admission and meet the same standards of eligibility. Candidates must take the SAT I or ACT prior to the application deadline. A personal interview is highly recommended for early admission candidates.

Joint EnrollmentDeadline: June 15. Notification: August 1

This admission plan serves students who wish to take courses at Oxford while still enrolled in high school. Students must have completed the junior year in secondary school and must follow the same admission procedures as candidates for regular admission. Candidates must take the SAT I or ACT prior to the application deadline.

Admission Decisions

Upon notice of acceptance, a deposit of $375 is required on or before May 1 for summer or fall enrollment, which will apply toward the first semester's fees. The deposit may be refunded if requested before May 1 for summer or fall enrollment, and before December 15 for spring enrollment.

Accelerated Degree Programs

Advanced Placement (AP)

Oxford College will grant up to sixteen hours of AP credit according to the following guidelines: four semester hours of credit will be granted for each score of four or five on examinations of the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board; four semester hours of credit in computer science for a score of three on either of the computer science examinations. The mathematics department gives credit for scores of three on the calculus and computer science examinations under special circumstances; for guidelines, see explanation on page 44. The French, German, and Spanish departments will review the examination booklets for scores of three and decide whether to award credit. No other departments will consider scores of three for credit. No credit will be granted at Oxford College for scores of one or two.

The Advanced Placement examination can be used to satisfy General Education Requirements in accordance with college policy. Whether such credit shall apply to Oxford's distribution requirements and the General Education Requirements is a determination made by the faculty in the discipline granting the credit. Not more than eight hours of AP credit will be granted in the same academic division. Applicants should request that scores be sent to the Office of Enrollment Services, P.O. Box 1418, Oxford, Georgia 30054.

International Baccalaureate (IB)

Oxford College recognizes the academic challenge of the International Baccalaureate and will grant up to sixteen hours of credit for scores of five, six, or seven on the higher-level examinations. No credit is awarded for standard-level examinations. Not more than eight hours of IB credit will be granted in the same academic division. When IB credit is awarded, a student may not receive AP credit that duplicates the IB work. Applicants must request that scores arrive by October 1 of their first semester to the Office of Enrollment Services, P.O. Box 1418, Oxford, Georgia 30054.

Transfer Applicants

Requirements

Oxford welcomes applications from students who have attended other colleges.

If less than a year of college-level work has been completed, the high school transcript and SAT or ACT scores should be submitted as part of the admission application. An official college transcript should be sent from all previously attended colleges to the dean of enrollment services, Oxford College, P.O. Box 1418, Oxford, Georgia 30054. The student must be eligible to return to the previous institutions and should have an overall grade-point average equivalent to a B or better at Oxford to be considered.

Transfer students from approved colleges may receive credit at Oxford for previous work, provided their performance is creditable and the work consists of acceptable academic college-level courses. To qualify for the associate of arts degree and for continuation at Emory College, transfer students are required to take at least two semesters of residence at Oxford, earning a minimum of thirty-five credit hours, three of which must be in physical education. The physical education courses must be from the health fitness, lifetime and aquatics areas, unless a student's aquatics placement test score permits the substitution of a course. In this case, a student may take the third course in any area, including aquatics. If a transfer student is at Oxford for only two semesters, the physical education requirement can be fulfilled by:

- (a) taking two P. E. courses in one semester,
- (b) attending summer school

If a student chooses option b, the Oxford College AA degree would be awarded after completion of the third course.

Transient Study

Oxford students wishing to enroll for summer study at another institution must secure the written permission of their academic adviser. Since permission depends upon approval of the intended courses, students should contact their academic adviser well before the end of the spring semester to obtain a transient permission form. The transient permission form and catalog description should be turned in to the Office of Enrollment Services. For credit to be received, an official transcript must be received in the Office of Enrollment Services by October 1 of the year courses were taken.

Note: Transient study is only approved for the summer between the freshman and sophomore year of study at Oxford. Enrollment in at least a three semester hour or a five quarter hour course is acceptable for transient credit. If the institution gives three semester hours of credit, three semester hours of credit will be awarded when the student's transcript with a grade of "C" or better is received. Students wishing to enroll as transients at Oxford must also present written permission from their own dean or registrar.

Readmission

To return to Oxford after withdrawing or being absent for one or more semesters (other than the summer semester), students must complete a readmission form (available from the Office of Academic Services). There is no application fee for readmission.

Students requesting readmission after exclusion must petition for readmission no later than four weeks prior to the end of the term preceding the one for which readmission is requested (see "Probation and Exclusion," p. 90).

Readmission following withdrawal for medical reasons requires clearance by designated University health officials.

New Student Orientation

Oxford College offers an orientation program prior to the start of fall semester. All new students are required to attend in order to become familiar with the campus, meet members of the faculty and staff, take placement tests, and register for classes. New students will be informed about dates and locations of orientation activities. Parents are urged to attend events on the first day of orientation, meet the faculty and administration, and become acquainted with the educational philosophy of Oxford College. Students entering Oxford College in the spring semester have a one-day orientation program prior to the start of classes.

Continuation to Emory College

Early each spring semester, the staff, administration, and faculty of Oxford and Emory colleges work to give Oxford's rising juniors ("continues") the information and guidance required to continue as Emory College juniors as seamlessly as possible. Oxford students are encouraged to begin acquainting themselves with the Atlanta campus in their first year at Oxford. Shuttle service to the Atlanta campus is provided for students (consult Campus Life for details).

“It is the mark of an educated mind to be able to entertain a thought without accepting it.” —ARISTOTLE

Expenses

Basic Cost

Basic expenses for the academic year 2008–2009 are approximately $19,279 per semester (tuition, fees, room, and board). The student should allow additional funds for such expenses as books, laundry, personal items, and entertainment.

Tuition

The 2008–2009 semester tuition charge of $14,800 includes full-time instruction in an average program of study, use of facilities and equipment, medical and health service, and library service.

Part-time students (with a course load of fewer than twelve semester hours) are charged $1,233 for each semester hour. This charge does not include medical and health service.

Off-campus courses during the interim and summer terms require the payment of $925 per semester hour at registration. There is an additional charge for living and traveling expenses incurred in these courses. These costs are announced at the time of registration for the course.

Room and Board

The 2008–2009 cost of room and board averages $4,248 ($2,893 for room and $1,355 for board) per semester. This rate applies to a double-occupancy residence hall room and meal plan. Residence hall rooms commonly are furnished with beds, mattresses, desks, chairs, dressers, and sinks. Private rooms entail an additional charge and are not available to first-year students.

Oxford College is a residential campus. In certain cases, commuter status is granted to students who successfully petition the college to be exempt from the residency requirement. These students must live with a parent or guardian and provide a plan to be engaged in the campus community. Students who have special circumstances such as being married, having dependent children, and/or being older than age twenty-three, are exempt from the residency requirement upon petition.

Financial Assistance

Scholarships, loans, and on-campus employment tailored to individual ability and need are available. Oxford works to combine scholarships, loans, and part-time employment with parental assistance so that students can do their best work without financial strain.

A student must reapply for aid by the deadline each year. Provided the student continues to demonstrate financial need and remains in good academic standing (refer to Continuation in Attendance on page 91 for details), a first-year recipient can expect an aid package to be renewed for the sophomore year at Oxford. Given continued demonstration of need, students continuing to Emory College for their junior and senior years can expect to receive the same percentage of tuition in need-based aid that they received at Oxford.

Need-based grants are awarded for an academic year, provided the student is not placed on academic probation for two consecutive semesters. A student placed on Honor Council probation for the second time will automatically lose his or her grant. Moreover, a student may have Oxford grant funds reduced for the second year if the student is on academic probation.

Oxford uses both the College Scholarship Service Profile and the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to determine eligibility for financial aid. The College Scholarship Service is a cooperative program for handling confidential statements submitted by parents in support of applications for financial assistance.

Both the Profile and FAFSA forms should be filed online at www.collegeboard.com and www.fafsa.ed.gov, respectively. To receive priority treatment, these statements should be sent to the processor by February 1 of the year in which the student will require aid. This ensures that the student will meet the Oxford deadline of March 1. Signed copies of all student and parent tax returns, schedules, and W2 forms are due by March 1. Financial aid award packages for entering students with complete financial aid files are mailed by April 15. Financial aid award packages for returning and continuing students will be mailed in the summer.

Only applicants who have been accepted for admission or who already are enrolled will be considered for financial aid. Please view all financial requirements at www.emory.edu/OXFORD.

Academic Scholarships

Academic scholarships are awarded solely on the basis of academic and personal merit. Academic scholars placed on Honor Council probation for the first time or conduct probation for the second time will lose their scholarships permanently. All scholars are expected to take a standard course load of sixteen hours per semester while receiving a scholarship. Permission to underload with fewer than sixteen hours must be granted by the director of academic services. All scholars are expected to remain enrolled on the Oxford campus for four semesters.

Students receiving four-year scholarships are awarded at Oxford and continue to Emory College and Goizueta Business School. (Students planning to transfer to the Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing are not guaranteed the same academic scholarship and should contact the nursing school for information on financial assistance.)

Robert W. Woodruff Scholars

The Robert W. Woodruff scholarship competition is for high school seniors who have demonstrated qualities of forceful and unselfish character, intellectual and personal vigor, outstanding academic achievement, impressive skills in communication, significant leadership and creativity in school or community, and clear potential for enriching the lives of their contemporaries at Emory University. All students who apply for admission to Oxford College by November 1 automatically are considered for these awards and will be notified by February 1 if they are chosen as scholar candidates. Students must maintain a 3.2 grade-point average to continue as Woodruff Scholars taking the standard course load of sixteen hours per semester.

Scholarships are granted for four years and are awarded solely on the basis of outstanding merit without regard to financial need, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, or veteran's status. All students are expected to remain enrolled on the Oxford campus for four semesters.

Dean's Scholars

These full-tuition scholarships are awarded annually to first-year applicants. Selection is based on demonstrated academic achievement and leadership capabilities. Each student must maintain a 3.2 grade-point average taking the standard course load of sixteen hours per semester to continue as a Dean's Scholar. All students who apply for admission to Oxford College by November 15 automatically are considered for these awards and will be notified by February 1 if selected as a scholar candidate.

Scholarships are granted for four years and are awarded solely on the basis of outstanding merit without regard to financial need, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, or veteran's status. All students are expected to remain enrolled on the Oxford campus for four semesters.

Faculty Scholars

These half-tuition scholarships are awarded annually to first-year applicants. Selection is based on demonstrated academic achievement and leadership capabilities. At Oxford, students must maintain a 3.2 grade-point average taking the standard course load of sixteen hours per semester to continue as Faculty Scholars. All students who apply for admission by November 15 are automatically considered for these awards and will be notified by February 1 if selected as a scholar candidate. Outstanding sophomore students also may be selected to receive these scholarships.

Scholarships are granted for four years and are awarded solely on the basis of outstanding merit without regard to financial need, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, or veteran's status. All students are expected to remain enrolled on the Oxford campus for four semesters.

Oxford Hopkins Scholars

These scholarships for $8,000 per year for two years at Oxford College are awarded annually. Selection is based on demonstrated academic achievement and leadership capabilities. Students must maintain a 3.2 grade-point average taking the standard course load of sixteen hours per semester to continue as Oxford Hopkins Scholars. These scholarships do not continue to Emory College.

Oxford Scholars

Academic scholarships are awarded annually to Oxford students continuing to the Atlanta campus. These students are nominated by the dean of Oxford College in consultation with the Oxford faculty and staff. Nominees must show academic achievement, leadership ability, strong character, and potential to make significant contributions to Emory College. Final selections are made by the dean of Emory College. These scholarships are renewable for the senior year, provided the student maintains an acceptable academic record.

Alumni Scholars

These scholarships are funded at $2,500 each and are provided annually through generous donations from Oxford College alumni. Selection is based on demonstrated academic achievement and leadership capabilities.

Sophomore ScholarshipsBrad Edwards Leadership Award

Established in 1990 in memory of Oxford student Bradley Patrick Edwards by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Joseph Edwards, and friends. The one-half tuition scholarship is presented to two rising sophomores at Oxford College with outstanding character and who cares deeply for his or her fellow students, school, and community as demonstrated by broad-based involvement and leadership. The recipient must maintain a 2.5 GPA while at Oxford.

Judy Greer Scholarship

Awarded annually to two rising sophomores who exemplify the spirit and mission at Oxford College. Candidates must have at least a 3.0 GPA and a record of leadership. This award was initiated by the class of 1959 and supported by other alumni and friends to honor Judy Greer, professor of physical education, on her retirement from Oxford College in 1996. She taught at Oxford for more than thirty years.

Sammy Clark Scholarship

Established in 2005 by alumni and friends to honor Reverend Sammy Clark, Oxford College chaplain from 1982 to 1998.

Named Scholarships

In addition to the financial assistance for students provided in the operating budget of Oxford College, there are forty-three endowed scholarships that have been given as charitable investments in youth and in memory of friends and loved ones. Friends and alumni interested in establishing such scholarships are invited to contact Oxford's Office of Advancement and Planning. These scholarships are awarded by the Office of Financial Aid based on financial need as determined from the FAFSA and PROFILE.

Formal application for this grant must be made through www.gacollege411.org. The amount of the grant varies each year. The Financial Aid Office at Oxford will have information on funding amounts each summer.

Georgia HOPE Scholarships are available in the amount of $3,000 per year for each entering student designated by his or her high school as a HOPE Scholar and each returning student maintaining a grade-point average of at least a 3.0.

Part-time Jobs, Loans, and Veteran's Benefits

Information concerning part-time jobs in offices, the library, the dining hall, residence halls, and laboratories; loan funds available to prospective students; and financial benefits available to veterans or their dependents may be obtained from the Financial Aid Office, Oxford College, P.O. Box 1418, Oxford, Georgia 30054.

Administration of Curriculum

Academic policies of the college are discussed by the Academic Policy and Planning Committee and voted on by the faculty.

Requirements and Eligibility for Graduation and Continuation to Emory College

1. Fulfill the course requirements (see Degree Requirements, p. 8);
2. Achieve a cumulative grade-point average of at least 2.0 on work taken at Oxford;
3. Residency requirement: the last eight semester hours must be taken at Oxford College or in Emory University Summer School;
4. Transfer students: complete a minimum of thirty-five semester hours, three of which must be in physical education (and complete the conditions stated above).

Continuation Requirements

Oxford College continuees must earn a total of 132 semester hours of credit to graduate from Emory College; of these credits, a minimum of fifty-four semester hours must be earned in Emory College with a minimum of three semesters of residence in Emory College (twelve semester hours or more per semester); a semester of fewer than twelve hours can be combined with another semester of fewer than twelve hours to make up one semester of residence; however, a partial semester may not be combined with a semester of more than twelve hours to form two semesters of residence.

Financial Requirements for Graduation

It is a requirement for graduation that all financial obligations to the University be satisfied. If one has outstanding loans not yet due and payable, loan documents satisfactory to the University must be executed and delivered, and all payments must be current.

Grading System

Grades and Quality Points

Symbols A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, D, and S indicate credit; F indicates failure; I indicates that the student has not completed all the work for a course; IF indicates failure to finish an Incomplete; U indicates unsatisfactory; W indicates withdrawal without penalty; WF indicates withdrawal failing; and WU indicates unsatisfactory withdrawal. In addition to the standard four-point scale, an optional plus-minus grading system may be used; faculty members who choose to use plus-minus-based grading will so state in their course syllabus. The plus-minus grading system is mandatory in summer school.

Each passing grade carries with it a proportionate number of quality points. For each semester hour of credit, quality points are computed as follows:

Standard Four-Point Scale

A	=	4.0
B	=	3.0
C	=	2.0
D	=	1.0
F	=	0.0

Optional Plus-Minus Scale

A	=	4.0	C+	=	2.3
A-	=	3.7	C	=	2.0
B+	=	3.3	C-	=	1.7
B	=	3.0	D+	=	1.3
B-	=	2.7	D	=	1.0
			F	=	0.0

Symbols used for grades that result in no credit are F, failure; U, unsatisfactory; W, withdrawal without grade; WF, withdrawal while failing; WU, unsatisfactory withdrawal; and AU, for courses audited. Oxford students do not have the option to choose the grade of S/U for any course.

Incomplete Work

An I, incomplete, is recorded when the associate dean of academic affairs, for reasons such as a student's illness or emergency, grants a student permission to postpone a final examination or other work required to complete a course; a faculty member may request permission to assign a student an I when the faculty member needs more time to complete evaluation of that student's work. Failure to complete the work for which the I was granted by the end of three weeks into the next semester of residence in Oxford College or Emory College will result in an IF unless an extension is granted by the associate dean of academic affairs. For students who do not return to Oxford or continue at Emory, the I must be removed within a calendar year or it becomes an IF. The grades of WF and IF are computed as F.

Calculating Grade-Point Average

Every passing grade carries with it a proportionate number of quality points. Quality points are listed. Ws are not calculated in the hours attempted, but WFs and IFs are counted. To calculate grade-point average, divide quality points by hours attempted. Sample:

What are the steps?

1. List each course the number of credits and the course grade:

Course	Credits	Grade
Eng 181	4	B
Biol 141	4	D
Hist 101	4	A
PE 126	1	C

2. Multiply the number of credits in each course by the number of quality points corresponding with your letter grade:

Quality Points (QPs)

A = 4 pts.

B = 3 pts.

C = 2 pts.

D = 1 pt.

F = 0 pts.

Course	Credits	Grade	Points	QPs
Eng 181	4	B	3	$4 \times 3 = 12$
Biol 141	4	D	1	$4 \times 1 = 4$
Hist 101	4	A	4	$4 \times 4 = 16$
PE 126	1	C	2	$1 \times 2 = 2$

3. Add the credits and the quality points for every course in which a letter grade was received:

Course	Credits	QPs
Eng 181	4	12
Biol 141	4	4
Hist 101	4	16
PE 126	1	2

4. Divide number of quality points by the number of credits for the semester:

Credits = 13

QPs = 34

$$\text{GPA} = \frac{\text{QPs}}{\text{Credits}} = \frac{34}{13} = 2.61$$
Midsemester Deficiencies

Professors notify students if their academic performance is deficient at the midsemester. The notification will detail the student's progress and may include suggestions for improvement. A letter is sent to the parents of students receiving two or more midsemester deficiencies if the student has signed a release of academic information form.

Electronic Student Information and Enrollment

OPUS (Online Pathway linking University Students) is Emory's Student Information System on the web. Students are able to register; add, drop, and swap courses; and view unofficial transcripts, grades, schedule changes, registration appointment time, academic adviser name, billing information, financial aid information, whether or not a "hold" has been placed on the student's account, and addresses/telephone numbers/email addresses through this web-based system.

Report of Grades

Student grades are available only on the web (OPUS) for password-protected viewing.

Changing Courses

During the first five days of classes, a student (with his or her adviser's approval) may drop, add, and swap classes. During this period, classes dropped will not appear on the student's transcript.

Dropping Courses

Other than physical education courses, English 100C, English 101, English 181, and Math 100C, courses may be dropped with no academic penalty during the first six full weeks of classes of the semester after the drop-add period providing that the student continues to carry a load of 12 credit hours or is in his/her final semester of residence at Oxford College with approval of the student's academic adviser. Drops by merit scholars also require the approval of the director of academic services. After the drop-add period ends (first five days of classes), a W is given for the course dropped.

Students who drop a course after the end of the first six weeks for medical reasons, corroborated by appropriate documentation, are assigned a W for the course dropped. The associate dean of academic affairs may, for compelling academic reasons and with the recommendation of the student's course instructor and academic adviser, grant a W for a course dropped between the end of the six week and the last day of classes. In all other cases, course drops made after the first six weeks will be assigned a WF unless the student withdraws from the college (see "Cancellation and Withdrawal"). A student who has been accused of an Honor Code violation may not withdraw from the course. There is no tuition refund for a dropped course except in cases of withdrawal from the college before the end of the sixth week of class.

Class Attendance

Each student is responsible for his or her academic progress. Students are responsible for the effects of absences from class or laboratory on their academic work. Each professor will determine class-attendance requirements and may impose penalties for excessive absences. Report of excessive absence is sent to the director of academic services and will be considered evidence of a student's disregard for academic responsibility, unless excused (for medical or other appropriate reasons).

Faculty members are urged to accommodate student absences due to participation in services on religious holidays. Students are responsible for informing professors well in advance of planned religious observances that conflict with class attendance and for making arrangements to complete any work thereby missed.

Probation and ExclusionAcademic Probation

A student whose cumulative grade-point average is less than 2.0 at the end of any grading period automatically incurs academic probation. Students on probation are expected to concentrate their energies on their studies in order to bring their work up to the required standards of Oxford College.

Continuation in Attendance

A student incurring academic probation at the end of a semester may continue in attendance provided the following minimum standards are met:

1. The student's cumulative grade-point average must be at least 1.0 at the end of any semester.
2. The student's cumulative grade-point average must be at least 1.5 at the end of any semester at the conclusion of which the student has attempted more than twenty-six but no more than fifty-six semester hours in Oxford College.
3. The student's cumulative grade-point average must be at least 1.7 at the end of any semester at the conclusion of which the student has attempted more than fifty-six semester hours in Oxford College, unless the student has completed five semesters.
4. A student who has completed five semesters in Oxford College will be permitted to petition for an additional semester only if the student's cumulative grade-point average is at least 1.9; petitions will be considered by the associate dean of academic affairs and the Academic Appeals Committee; in cases where such petitions are granted, the sixth semester is normally the next consecutive semester.

Academic Exclusion

A student who fails to meet minimum requirements for continued attendance is typically excluded for a minimum of one semester during an academic year. Excluded students may be readmitted only through appropriate petition to the associate dean of academic affairs. Such petitions must establish a reasonable likelihood that the student's academic performance will improve. The petition must also establish that the student will be able to complete the requirements for graduation in the allowed time.

Specific Policies

FERPA

Emory University recognizes a student's right of privacy and is committed to protecting students from improper disclosure of private information. In accordance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, Oxford College of Emory University limits the disclosure to others of all private information from educational records without the student's prior written consent. The written consent form must be signed and dated and must specify the records to be disclosed and the identity of the recipient. This consent form may be rescinded by the student at any time.

Official Transcripts

Transcripts of a student's academic record may be obtained from the Office of Enrollment Services by written request of the student for a minimal fee. Official transcripts bearing the college seal and validating signature are not issued to individuals but are mailed only on request as confidential information to agencies or institutions. Transcripts include the entire scholastic record; no incomplete or partial transcripts will be issued. Transcript requests should be made at least one week before the transcript is needed. No transcripts or official statements of any kind will be issued for students whose records show financial indebtedness to Oxford College or any other official holds on their records. Please submit transcript request to Oxford College, Office of Enrollment Services, P.O. Box 1418, Oxford, Georgia 30054. A $4 fee is required for an official transcript mailed directly to anyone other than the student; a fee of $8 is required for an official transcript mailed directly to the student, and a $4 fee is required for an unofficial transcript to be mailed directly to the student.

Auditing Courses

With the permission of the course instructor, students may visit any course for which they have the prerequisites. To receive a grade designation of AU for an audited course, a student must secure audit status within the five-day add period and fulfill requirements of the course deemed appropriate for auditors by the instructor. The tuition for audit courses is the same as for credit courses.

Repetition of Courses

Students may not repeat courses they have passed (D and above are passing grades). However, a student may audit a course previously passed with the permission of the course instructor.

Emory College Courses

An Oxford student may, under exceptional circumstances, enroll in courses at Emory College with the permission of the deans of both Oxford and Emory colleges. Such courses cannot be equivalent to courses offered at Oxford and normally must be courses required of Emory College sophomores as prerequisites to a particular academic major or program.

Cancellation and Withdrawal

To cancel registration or withdraw from the college at any time, a student must secure written permission from the dean or the dean's designee; otherwise, honorable dismissal cannot be granted. A student who withdraws for reasons of illness on the recommendation of the Oxford College Student Health Services or Counseling and Career Services receives grades of W in all courses for that semester and must have approval from the Oxford College Student Health or Counseling and Career Services before readmission to the college.

In all other cases, honorable withdrawal from the college after the first six weeks results in grades of W in courses the student is passing and WF in courses the student is failing at the time of withdrawal. A student who has been accused of an honor code violation may not withdraw from the course.

Refunds of tuition are only partial. A student may cancel registration through the seventh calendar day after the first day of classes, in which case the deposit and application fee are forfeited. After the last day for cancellation of registration, a student may withdraw from the college with the appropriate permission. The forfeiture for withdrawal increases progressively, but is not less than the forfeiture for cancellation.

The schedule of forfeitures for tuition is as follows: during the second week of the semester, 20 percent of tuition charges; during the third week, 40 percent; during the fourth week, 60 percent; and during the fifth week, 80 percent. There is no tuition refund after the fifth week of the semester. No refund is given if only part of the work is dropped after the last day for approved course-schedule changes specified in the academic calendar.

Refunds for Oxford College students who are Federal (Title IV) aid recipients will be prorated in accordance with the Higher Education Amendment of 1992 and any related regulations.

Involuntary Withdrawal Policy and Procedure

Overview

Oxford College considers the safety and welfare of its students, faculty, and staff a top priority. When a student engages in behavior that violates Oxford's rules of conduct, the behavior will be addressed as a disciplinary matter under the applicable Student Conduct Code. The Student Conduct Code defines prohibited conduct and outlines a process for conducting disciplinary proceedings.

This Involuntary Withdrawal Policy and Procedure is not a disciplinary code, policy, or process. It is not intended to apply to situations in which a student engages in behavior that violates the college's rules of conduct. It is intended to apply when a student's observed conduct, actions, and/or statements indicate a direct threat to the student's own health and/or safety, or a direct threat to the health and/or safety of others. There may be situations in which both this Involuntary Withdrawal Policy and the Student Conduct Code may apply. In all cases, the associate dean of academic affairs shall have final authority regarding the decision, enactment, enforcement, and management of the involuntary withdrawal of a student.

Policy Details

Criteria

A student may be withdrawn involuntarily from Oxford College if the College determines that the student represents a direct threat to the health and safety of himself/herself or others by (1) engaging or threatening to engage in behavior which poses a high probability of substantial harm to himself/herself or others; or (2) engaging or threatening to engage in behavior which would cause significant property damage, would directly and substantially impede the lawful activities of others, or would interfere with the educational process and the orderly operation of the Oxford College.

Procedure

When the associate dean of academic affairs (or the dean's designee) based on a student's conduct, actions, or statements, has reasonable cause to believe that the student meets one or more of the criteria for involuntary withdrawal, he or she may initiate an assessment of the student's ability to safely participate in Oxford College's program.

The Associate Dean of Academic Affairs initiates this assessment by first meeting with the student to (1) review available information concerning the behavior and/or incidents which have caused concern, (2) provide the student with a copy of this Involuntary Withdrawal Policy and Procedure and discuss its contents with the student,

(3) provide the student an opportunity to explain his/her behavior, and (4) discuss options available to the student, including counseling, voluntary withdrawal and evaluation for involuntary withdrawal. If the student agrees to withdraw voluntarily from the University and waives any right to any further procedures available under this policy, the student will be given a grade of W for all courses, will be advised in writing on any conditions that must be satisfied prior to re-enrollment, and may be referred for appropriate mental health or other health services. If the student refuses to withdraw voluntarily from Oxford College, and the associate dean of academic affairs continues to have reasonable cause to believe the student meets one or more of the criteria for involuntary withdrawal, the associate dean of academic affairs may require the student to be evaluated by an appropriate mental health professional.

Evaluation

The associate dean of academic affairs may refer the student for a mandatory evaluation by an appropriate mental health professional or other appropriate professional. The professional may be selected by Oxford College so long as there is no cost to the student for the evaluation. A written copy of the involuntary referral shall be provided to the student.

The evaluation must be completed within five school days after the date the referral letter is provided to the student. Prior to the evaluation, the student will be required to sign a written authorization authorizing the exchange of relevant information among the mental health professional(s) (or other professional) and the University. Upon completion of the evaluation, copies of the evaluation report will be provided to the associate dean of academic affairs and the student.

The professional making the evaluation shall make an individualized and objective assessment of the student's ability safely to participate in Oxford's program, based on a reasonable judgment relying on the most current professional knowledge and/or the best available objective evidence. This assessment shall include a determination of the nature, duration and severity of the risk posed by the student to the health and safety of himself/herself or others, the probability that the potentially threatening injury will actually occur, and whether reasonable modifications of policies, practices, or procedures will sufficiently mitigate the risk. The professional will, with appropriate authorization, share his/her recommendation with the associate dean of academic affairs, who will take this recommendation into consideration in determining whether the student should be involuntarily withdrawn from Oxford. A copy of the professional's recommendation will be provided to the student, unless, in the opinion of the professional, it would be damaging to the student to do so.

If the evaluation results in a determination that the student's continued attendance presents no significant risk to the health or safety of the student or others, and no significant threat to property, to the lawful activities of others, or to the educational processes and orderly operations of Oxford College, no further actions shall be taken to withdraw the student from Oxford College.

If the evaluation results in a determination that the continued attendance of the student presents a significant risk to the health of safety of the student or others, such that there is a high probability of substantial harm, or a significant threat to property, to the lawful activities of others, or to the educational processes and orderly operations of the college, the student may be involuntarily withdrawn from the college. In such an event, the student shall be informed in writing by the associate dean of academic affairs of the involuntary withdrawal, of his/her right to an informal hearing, of his/her right to appeal the decision of the hearing officer, and of any conditions necessary for re-enrollment. In most cases, a student who is involuntarily withdrawn will be given a grade of W in all courses in which the student is currently enrolled.

Informal Hearing

A student who has been involuntarily withdrawn may request an informal hearing before a hearing officer appointed by the associate dean of academic affairs by submitting a written request to be heard within two business days from receipt of the notice of involuntary withdrawal. A hearing will be set as soon as possible. The student shall remain involuntarily suspended pending completion of the hearing.

The hearing shall be informal and non-adversarial. During the hearing, the student may present relevant information and may be advised by an Oxford faculty or staff member or a health professional of his/her choice. The role of the adviser is limited to providing advice to the student.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing office shall decide whether to uphold the involuntary withdrawal or whether to reconsider, and the student shall be provided written notice of the officer's decision as soon as possible.

Appeal to the Dean

The student may appeal the hearing officer's decision to the associate dean of academic affairs, who shall review all information presented and make a final decision as to whether or not to uphold the involuntary withdrawal.

Emergency Suspension

The University may take emergency action to suspend a student pending a final decision on whether the student will be involuntarily withdrawn, in situations in which (a) there is imminent danger of serious physical harm to the student or others, (b) there is imminent danger of significant property damage, (c) the student is unable or unwilling to meet with the associate dean of academic affairs, (d) the student refuses to complete the mandatory evaluation, or (e) the associate dean of academic affairs determines such other exceptional circumstances exist that suspension is warranted. In the event emergency action is taken to suspend the student on an interim basis, the student shall be given notice of the emergency suspension and an initial opportunity to address the circumstances on which the emergency suspension is based.

Conditions for Re-enrollment

Because this Involuntary Withdrawal Policy applies to cases in which there is a concern about the safety of the student or others, the associate dean of academic affairs or his/her designee may require a student who has been involuntarily withdrawn under this Policy to be re-evaluated before he/she is readmitted in order to assure that he/she presents no direct threat to himself/herself or others.

Academic Appeals

Students may petition for waivers of existing academic regulations and requirements in individual cases. Such petitions are handled under the guidelines established by the dean and faculty, and should be submitted to the associate dean of academic affairs.

Motor Vehicles

All students who park automobiles on campus must register their vehicles at the time of enrollment or at the time the vehicles are brought on campus. You must register your vehicle on line at <https://app.oxford.emory.edu/CampusLife/Parking/index.cfm>. Persons operating vehicles on campus are expected to know and abide by college parking and traffic regulations. Regulations can be found by going to the Oxford College web page. Click on “Life” then scroll down to “Support Services” then click on “Campus Safety” then click “Vehicle Registration.” Failure to abide by these regulations may result in fines/or other disciplinary measures, including booting and removal of the vehicle from campus at the owner’s expense. See parking violations under vehicle registration for more information.

Conduct and Honor

As members of the Oxford College community of learning and as representatives of Emory University, students are responsible individuals who conduct themselves in accordance with the established standards of the college community. Students of Oxford College are responsible to student government, administration, faculty, and each other for their conduct and for the consequences of their actions.

The Oxford College student government, administration, and faculty share the responsibility of establishing and enforcing standards of student conduct. The dean of Oxford College has final authority in all matters of honor and conduct. Each student is expected to abide by and support the Conduct Code and the Honor Code. The Conduct Code addresses issues of nonacademic conduct, and infractions of this code are heard by the Conduct Board of Oxford College. The Honor Code addresses issues of academic integrity and honesty; breaches of this code are heard by the Honor Council of Oxford College. The following are abridged versions of the student Conduct Code and student Honor Code. The complete codes are provided to each entering student prior to registration and also available on the college website.

Oxford College Code of Conduct, Abridged Version

- I. Preamble
- II. Basic Expectations and Inherent Authority
- III. Violations of Code and Law
- IV. Prohibited Conduct
- V. Definitions
- VIII. Disciplinary Actions
- IX. Jurisdiction

I. Preamble

As Oxford College of Emory University is an institution dedicated to providing educational opportunities for its students, it strives to establish an atmosphere of responsible freedom, which will enable its students to pursue their academic and personal goals. Students of Oxford College are expected to adhere to and uphold the standards of department, integrity, and courtesy that are appropriate at an institution of higher learning.

II. Basic Expectations and Inherent Authority

The primary purpose for the imposition of non-academic discipline in the college setting is to protect and preserve the quality of educational environment in the campus community. This purpose entails several basic expectations:

- That the college community assumes high standards of courtesy, integrity, and responsibility in all of its members.
- That each student is responsible for his/her conduct and that continuation as a student is conditional upon compliance with the requirements of student conduct expressed or implied in this code. Each student in Oxford College is presumed to know that the requirements of student conduct expressed or implied in this code and all other college or University regulations are in effect and applicable to him or her.
- That matters of alleged misconduct that fall under this code will be handled under this code.
- Oxford College reserves the right to take necessary and appropriate action to protect the safety and well being of the campus community.
- The Administrative Regulations of Emory University: New regulations may be issued from time to time by the University.
- Confidentiality. Students' conduct records are confidential and will not be released outside the college without the student's specific written permission, except as provided by applicable law.

III. Violations of the Law and this Code

Students may be accountable to both to civil authorities and to the college for acts that constitute violations of the law and this code. Those accused of violations of this code are subject to the college's disciplinary proceedings outlined in this code while criminal, civil, or other college proceedings regarding the same conduct are pending. Accused students may not challenge the college disciplinary proceedings outlined in this code on the grounds that criminal allegations of possible violations, civil actions, or other college proceedings regarding the same incident are pending, may be initiated, or have been terminated, dismissed, reduced, or not yet adjudicated. The disciplinary process will proceed independent of, and not subject to, decisions made by non-college authorities. The college reserves the right to refer matters to federal, state, and local authorities when appropriate.

IV. Prohibited Conduct

Oxford College Conduct Code and other Oxford College Regulations: It is neither possible nor necessary to indicate every instance of misconduct that could result in disciplinary action against a student, it is appropriate to specify certain types of behavior that are not permissible on University property, at off-campus college or University-sponsored activities, or in any setting where the behavior affects the interest of Oxford College or Emory University and is brought to the attention of the college. The following list includes, but is not limited to, conduct which may subject a student to disciplinary action.

Abuse and Assault: Verbal abuse, physical assault, or attempted physical assault, and harassment, whether in person, in writing, or by electronic means. Such conduct may include: explicit or implicit threats, including gestures that place a person in reasonable fear of unwelcome physical contact, harm, or death; following a person about in a public place or to or from his or her residence; making remarks in a public place to a specific person that are by common usage lewd, obscene, expose a person to public hatred, or that can be reasonably expected to have a tendency to cause acts of violence by the person to whom the remark is addressed; or communicating anonymously by voice mail or graphic means or making a telephone call anonymously whether or not a conversation ensues, words or actions directed at a specific person or persons that seriously alarms or intimidates such person or persons and that serves no legitimate purpose.

Aiding and Abetting: Encouraging, aiding, or inciting any conduct prohibited by this code.

Alcohol: Possession, use, consumption, or distribution of alcoholic beverages. Oxford College is defined as an alcohol-free environment in which the possession, consumption, use, or distribution of alcoholic beverages by students, regardless of age, is expressly prohibited on campus. The term campus includes all property owned, leased, or used by Emory University. Possession may be defined as a student's presence in a location in which alcohol is readily available, regardless of evidence of the student's actual consumption. Behaviors indicating that a student is manifestly under the influence of alcohol may constitute a charge of misconduct. Student Government Association funds may not be used to purchase alcoholic beverages. Contributing to a violation of the Conduct Code by supplying or otherwise actively engaging in the consumption of alcohol and/or drugs by another. Students may be held responsible for the behavior of guests, including other students, regardless of their presence.

Cooperation: Failure to cooperate in the administration of this code.

Dangerous Devices: The possession, carrying, or use of firearms (including pistols, rifles, shotguns, BB guns, pellet guns, paintball guns, or ammunition), bows and arrows, dirk knives, razors, switchblades, explosives, or other dangerous knives, explosives, or other dangerous chemicals including lighter fluid or weapons including martial arts equipment is prohibited in college-owned or -controlled property and at college-sponsored or -supervised activities, except by authorized law officers and other persons specifically authorized by the University.

Disturbances: Disruption or obstruction of teaching, residence hall life, research, administrative functions, disciplinary proceedings, freedom of movement of vehicles or persons on campus, or of other proper and authorized activities of the institution.

Drugs: Use, possession, sale or distribution of narcotics or illegal drugs. The unauthorized use, possession, sale, or distribution of prescription drugs (e.g., amphetamines, barbiturates, tranquilizers, etc.) is also strictly prohibited. Possession may be defined as a student's presence in a location in which controlled substances are readily available, regardless of evidence of the student's actual use. Behaviors indicating that a student is manifestly under the influence of a controlled and/or intoxicating substance may constitute a charge of misconduct.

Fire Safety: Setting a fire; tampering, misusing, or destroying fire alarms, fire hoses, fire extinguishers, or any other fire equipment; failure to exit in a prompt manner at the sound of a fire alarm. Additional fire safety restrictions are detailed in the student housing regulations.

Hazing: Taking any action or creating any situation that endangers another's mental or physical health or involves the forced consumption of liquor or drugs for the purpose of initiating into or affiliation with any organization or group. Participation in any activity considered to be hazing as described in the Oxford College policy on hazing (see hazing policy).

Non-Compliance: Disregarding or failure to comply with the directive of a college official, including campus police officers, resident assistants, and student judiciaries acting in the performance of their duties. Failure to fulfill sanctions assigned in response to student misconduct and/or knowingly violating the terms of any disciplinary sanction imposed or any mutual agreement reached in accordance with this code.

Obscene Conduct: Obscene conduct on campus, on Emory University property, or at, or in connection with, institutionally sponsored or supervised functions of student organizations, whether in person, in writing, or by electronic means.

Official Records: Forging, altering, or otherwise misusing institutional documents or records, or knowingly giving false information to the institution or its duly authorized representatives. Such misconduct may fall within the jurisdiction of the Oxford College Honor Code. The appropriate hearing body of such a charge will be decided by the dean for academic affairs and the dean for campus life. Breaches of academic integrity will be handled in conformity with the Oxford Honor Code.

Property Damage: Damage, destruction, or unauthorized removal, or theft of property of another member of the University community (student, faculty, staff, or employee), property of the University itself, or the property of a guest of the University.

Student Organizations: Membership, participation in, or support of student organizations explicitly prohibited by the dean.

Trespassing: Unauthorized entry into, or use of, any institutional facility, including residence halls, classrooms, offices, and other restricted facilities. Engaging in violation of regulations relating to entry (opening and closing hours) and use of University facilities. Unauthorized entry or use further includes infringement upon the rights of privacy of another member of the college community.

Other Regulations

Housing: Violation of Oxford College housing regulations and terms and conditions of residency.

Computer Use: Violation of Oxford College computer use policy.

V. Definitions

- a. Whenever the designation dean of Oxford College is used, it is understood to include any duly appointed delegate of the dean of Oxford College.
- b. Wherever the designation dean for campus life is used, it is understood to include any duly appointed delegate of the dean for campus life.
- c. The term student as used in this code means any person who is currently enrolled in Oxford College or was so enrolled at the time of the alleged misconduct. At the discretion of the dean of Oxford College, the term may be extended to mean (1) a person not currently enrolled who was enrolled in the fall or spring term preceding, or (2) a person who, while not currently enrolled, has been enrolled in Oxford College and may reasonably be expected to seek enrollment at a future date, or (3) a person who has been accepted for admission to Oxford College and may reasonably be expected to enroll by virtue of his or her participation in the orientation program for new students.
- d. The term campus includes all property owned, leased, or used by Emory University.
- e. A student charged with misconduct may seek advice from an Oxford College faculty member or staff member, and may have this person present at any hearings on the matter. This person is hereafter referred to as the adviser. In cases of doubt, the faculty chairperson of the Conduct Board will rule on whether a prospective adviser meets one of the above criteria.
- f. The Conduct Board is the judicial body empowered to hear cases of student misconduct and to set sanctions.
- g. The conduct investigator will be a staff member appointed by the dean for campus life to investigate all matters pertaining to an individual case. The conduct investigator also may hear cases and set sanctions when the accused student admits guilt.
- h. A Personal Performance Record is established for a student when the Oxford Conduct Board, conduct investigator, or the dean of Oxford College imposes on the student a penalty that results in a written record entry. This personal performance record is maintained by the dean for campus life and is available to the administrative officials of the University, to the student at his or her request, and to others only in accordance with the University's policy on student records.
- i. Notice to Attend is a written notice from the Conduct Board to an Oxford student that he or she is required to attend and testify at a conduct hearing.

VIII. Disciplinary Actions

Disciplinary actions that may be taken include, but are not limited to:

Warning. The student will be warned that he or she has violated the Oxford College Student Conduct Code and that subsequent misconduct may lead to a more severe penalty. No entry of this record will be made in the student's personal performance record, but it may be presented in a subsequent disciplinary case.

Reprimand. The student will be given formal written notice that he or she has violated the Oxford College Student Conduct Code and that future misconduct may lead to a more severe penalty. The reprimand will remain on the student's Personal Performance Record until a future date set by the Conduct Board or conduct investigator.

Conduct Probation. The student will be given formal written notice that his or her behavior has raised serious doubts about his or her ability to conduct himself or herself in a manner acceptable to the Oxford College community. The student will have probationary status until a future date set by the Conduct Board or conduct investigator to determine his or her suitability to remain as a student. In cases involving serious behavior and/or repeated offenses, a decision will be made to either include a permanent notation on the student's Personal Performance Record indicating a sanction of conduct probation or remove the notation at the expiration of the probationary period.

Suspension-Limited. The student will be informed in writing by the dean for campus life that he/she will be denied certain campus privileges for a stated period of time. These privileges may include, but are not limited to, class attendance, parking on campus, participation in extracurricular activities, and access to specified institutional facilities. Students who are denied access to the campus while suspended may forfeit all academic credit and not receive any refund of tuition or fees due for the term if he/she is suspended. If the student re-enrolls following suspension, he/she will be placed on conduct probation for the remainder of his or her time at Oxford. Academic credits earned at other institutions during the period of suspension may not be transferred to Oxford College for credit toward graduation requirements.

Suspension-Immediate. The student may be required to leave the campus immediately if, in the opinion of the dean of Oxford College, the student's presence on the campus would be detrimental to the institution. Suspension without a hearing will continue until the disciplinary process is completed. Reasonable efforts will be made to schedule and complete the disciplinary process as promptly as possible.

Dismissal. The accused student will be given formal notice in writing by the dean of campus life that his/her behavior has been such that he or she is to be dismissed from the college. The dean of campus life will specify either immediate dismissal or dismissal at the end of the semester. The student will be told when he or she may re-apply for admission and the procedure to be followed in making such reapplication. On the date that a student's dismissal becomes effective, the student will be required to leave the campus promptly and remain off of the campus during the period of the dismissal. The student will forfeit all academic credit and will not receive any refund of tuition or fees due for the term if he/she is dismissed before the conclusion of the term. If the student is readmitted following dismissal, he/she will be placed on conduct probation for the remainder of his or her enrollment at Oxford. Academic credits earned at other institutions during the period of dismissal may not be transferred to Oxford College for credit toward graduation requirements.

Expulsion. The accused student is permanently dismissed without recourse to apply for readmission. The student will forfeit all academic credit and will not receive any refund of tuition or fees due for the term during which he/she was expelled.

Restitution. The student will be required to reimburse the college or a member of the college community for expenses resulting from misconduct. This may take the form of appropriate service or other compensation, including monetary compensation.

Service to the College. The student will perform service to the college. The Conduct Board or conduct investigator will determine the appropriate nature of this service and the appropriate duration.

Personal Performance Record. The following sanctions will automatically be documented in the student's Personal Performance Record:

1. Expulsion
2. Dismissal
3. Suspension
4. Conduct Probation in cases involving serious behavior and/or repeated offenses, where a decision is made to include a permanent notation on the student's Personal Performance Record.
5. Reprimand (expunged from the student's Personal Performance Record at a future date set by the Conduct Board or conduct investigator.)

When a student is subjected to any of the actions indicated above, a record of the case will be retained by the dean for campus life. If the student is subsequently found responsible for any violation of the Conduct Code, a record of all previous disciplinary findings of "responsible" for any violation will be provided to the conduct investigator or the Conduct Board. The previous record will be considered in deciding the proper disciplinary action to be taken.

Students subjected to the disciplinary actions of conduct probation, suspension, or dismissal may be ineligible for scholarships and other forms of financial aid administered by the University.

IX. Jurisdiction

The dean and faculty of Oxford College have such authority in matters of student conduct as is set forth, in University documents including the by laws of the University.

Honor Code (abridged)

January 1982

(Revised August 19, 1991)

(Revised April 21, 1992)

Preamble

The responsibility for maintaining standards of unimpeachable honesty in all academic work and in campus judicial proceedings falls upon every individual in Oxford College of Emory University. The Honor Code is based on the fundamental expectation that every person in Oxford College will conduct his or her life according to the dictates of the Honor Code and will refuse to tolerate actions in others that violate the Honor Code.

Article 1: Academic Misconduct

Academic misconduct is an offense generally defined as any action or failure to act that is contrary to the integrity and honesty of members of the academic community.

A. Such offenses include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Seeking, acquiring, receiving, or giving information about the conduct of an examination, knowing that the release of such information has not been authorized.
2. Plagiarizing.
3. Seeking, using, giving, or obtaining unauthorized assistance in any academic assignment or examination.
4. Intentionally misshelving, damaging, or removing library materials without authorization.
5. Intentionally giving false information to professors or instructors for the purpose of gaining academic advantage.
6. Intentionally giving false evidence in any Honor Council or Conduct Board hearing or refusing to give evidence when requested by the Honor Council.
7. Intentionally giving unauthorized information regarding hearings of the Oxford College Conduct Board or Honor Council.
8. Violating any duties prescribed by this code.

B. A duty of confidentiality is implicit in the honor system. It is academic misconduct under this code for a member of the Honor Council, a student witness, or any student (other than the accused) who has obtained knowledge of an Honor Council proceeding, past or present, to breach this confidentiality. Nothing in this paragraph shall restrict communications to officials of the college where knowledge is necessary to the performance of the officials' duties, nor shall it restrict disclosure required by law.

C. Harassment of witnesses or anyone involved in an Honor Council hearing before, during, or after the hearing constitutes academic misconduct.

Article 2: Honor Pledge and Obligations

- A. A student's signature on a paper or test submitted for credit shall indicate he or she has neither given nor received unauthorized information on the work, nor has condoned the giving or receiving of unauthorized information by others.
- B. Each student at Oxford College of Emory University agrees to abide by the honor pledge and takes upon himself or herself the responsibility of upholding the Honor Code; each student is urged to inquire of the Honor Council about any doubtful case at any time throughout the year.

Article 3: Reporting Cases

It is the responsibility of every member of the faculty, administration, and student body to support the honor system. In pursuance of this duty, any individual, when he or she suspects that an offense of academic misconduct has occurred, shall report the suspected breach to a member of the Honor Council or to the Dean.

Article 5: Procedure

Refusal of a witness to testify shall constitute academic misconduct under this code.

Harassment of witnesses shall constitute misconduct under this code. The following sanctions may be imposed:

1. Honor Council probation for one year; the penalty is automatic on conviction, and the student shall be given formal notice in writing that any further violation shall be sufficient cause for further disciplinary action.
2. F in the work involved, with prior consent of the professor.
3. F in the course on the student's permanent transcript, with prior consent of the professor.
4. Honor Council suspension (specifying the period of suspension).
5. Honor Council dismissal; all courses in process shall receive a grade of W except any course for which an F is recorded under (3) above.
6. Honor Council expulsion.
7. Such combination of sanctions or other sanction that may be appropriate.

Article 7: Honor Council

There shall be a body known as the Honor Council which shall be charged with two duties:

- A. To sponsor an effective educational campaign among students for highest academic and judicial integrity at Oxford College and to promote a clear understanding throughout the college community of the issues involved in the Honor Code; and
- B. To hear all cases reported to it of breach of honor by students. The duty of the Council shall be to determine guilt of innocence and to make recommendations to the Dean.

Article 8: Membership

The Honor Council shall consist of fourteen (14) persons—a chair, a secretary (non-voting members), four (4) student members, two (2) student alternates, three (3) faculty members and three (3) faculty alternates.

The findings and recommendations of the Honor Council shall be transmitted to the dean promptly in a concise written report. After receipt of the report, the student shall be promptly notified in writing of the dean's decision and any sanctions imposed. The dean may reject a finding of guilt (but not one of acquittal), modify the severity of the recommended sanctions, or require the Honor Council to hold a new hearing.

Plagiarism

The Use of Sources in Writing Research Papers*

A writer's facts, ideas, and phraseology should be regarded as his or her property. Any person who uses a writer's ideas or phraseology without giving due credit is guilty of plagiarism. Information may be put into a paper without a footnote or some other kind of documentation only if it meets all of the following conditions:

- It may be found in several books on the subject;
- It is written entirely in the words of the student;
- It is not paraphrased from any particular source;
- It therefore belongs to common knowledge.

Generally, if a student writes while looking at a source or while looking at notes taken from a source, a footnote should be given.

Whenever any idea is taken from a specific work, even when the student writes the idea entirely in his own words, there must be a footnote giving credit to the author responsible for the idea. Of course, methods of documentation vary, and it is possible to cite the source in the text itself rather than a footnote. The point is that the student should give credit in a manner specified by the instructor or the department.

The student is entirely responsible for knowing and following the principles of paraphrasing. "In paraphrasing you are expressing the ideas of another writer in your own words. A good paraphrase preserves the sense of the original, but not the form. It does not retain the sentence patterns and merely substitute synonyms for the original words and merely alter the sentence patterns. It is a genuine restatement. Invariably, it should be briefer than the source."†

Any direct quotation should be footnoted (or documented in any acceptable fashion). Even when a student uses only one unusual or key word from a passage, that word should be quoted. If a brief phrase that is common, or somewhat common, is used as it occurs in a source, the words should be in quotation marks. The source of every quotation should be given either in a footnote or in some other prescribed manner.

It is of course the prerogative of the instructor to prescribe that no secondary sources may be used for particular papers. A student who uses a secondary source must remember that the very act of looking up a book or article should be considered a pledge that the student will use the material according to the principles stated above.

Emory University Policy Statement on Discriminatory Harassment

It is the policy of Emory University that all employees and students should be able to enjoy and work in an educational environment free from discriminatory harassment. Harassment of any person or group of persons on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, disability, or veteran's status is a form of discrimination specifically prohibited in the Emory University community. Any employee, student, student organization, or person privileged to work or study in the Emory University community who violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including permanent exclusion from the University.

Discriminatory harassment includes conduct (oral, written, graphic, or physical) directed against any person or group of persons because of their race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, disability, or veteran's status that has the purpose or reasonably foreseeable effect of creating an offensive, demeaning, intimidating, or hostile environment for that person or group of persons. Such conduct includes, but is not limited to, objectionable epithets, demeaning depictions or treatment, and threatened or actual abuse or harm.

In addition, sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or a student's status in a course, program, or activity.
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an employee or student is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions affecting that employee or student.
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an employee's work performance or a student's academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive employment, educational, or living environment.

All University vice presidents, deans, and division and department chairs should take appropriate steps to disseminate this policy statement and to inform employees and students of procedures for lodging complaints. All members of the student body, faculty, and staff are expected to assist in implementing this policy.

The scholarly, educational, or artistic content of any written, oral, or other presentation or inquiry shall not be limited by this policy. It is the intent of this paragraph that academic freedom be allowed to all members of the academic community. Accordingly, this provision shall be liberally construed but shall not be used as a pretext for violation of this policy.

Any student or employee with a complaint of discriminatory harassment should contact the associate vice president for Equal Opportunity Programs to obtain information on the procedure for handling such complaints. Any questions regarding either this policy statement or a specific fact situation should be addressed to the Emory University Office of Equal Opportunity Programs.

University-Student Relationships

The Board of Trustees of Emory University has adopted a statement of policy dealing with University-student relationships. A digest of that policy follows:

1. Emory University was founded on Christian principles by the Methodist church and proudly continues its church relationship as an agency dedicated to seeking and imparting truth.
2. Emory University admits qualified students of any sex, sexual orientation, race, color, national origin, age, religion, disability, or veteran's status to all of the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at Emory University; it does not discriminate on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, age, race, color, national origin, religion, disability, or veteran's status in administering its educational policies, admission policies, scholarship and loan programs, athletic programs, and other programs administered by Emory University.
3. Attendance at Emory University is a privilege and not a right; however, no student will be dismissed except in accordance with prescribed procedures; students applying for admission do so voluntarily and are free to withdraw, subject to compliance with the regulations of their schools or colleges governing withdrawal and to the fulfillment of their financial obligations to the University.
4. Upon matriculation at Emory, each student agrees to be bound by the rules, policies, procedures, and administrative regulations as they exist at the time of admission and as they may be changed by duly constituted authority.
5. By enrolling as a student at Emory University, a person acquires the right to pursue the course of study to which he or she is admitted and to be treated with the dignity appropriate to an adult person in all matters relating to the University; in the same spirit, the student shall comply with the rules and regulations of Emory University.
6. Students are provided the opportunity to participate in the development of rules and procedures pertaining to University affairs to the extent that such participation and the results thereof, as determined by the Board of Trustees or its designated agent, are consistent with orderly processes and with the policies and administrative responsibilities of the Board of Trustees and the administration.
7. The University expects students to conduct themselves with dignity, courtesy, responsibility, and integrity, and with due respect for the rights of others, realizing that sobriety and morality are not only characteristics of a mature and responsible person but are also essential to the maintenance of a free and orderly society.
8. Membership in and rules governing admission to student organizations shall be determined by the organizations themselves, and such rules shall not be required to be uniform as long as these rules do not contravene any policy established by the Board of Trustees.

Emory University is an educational institution, not a vehicle for political or social action. It endorses the right of dissent and protects and encourages reasonable exercise of this right by individuals within the University. Because the right of dissent is subject to abuse, the Board of Trustees and the president have published a statement to clarify policy concerning such abuse. A digest of that statement follows:

1. Individuals associated with Emory represent a variety of viewpoints; the University fosters the free expression and interchange of differing views through oral and written discourse and logical persuasion.
2. Dissent, to be acceptable, must be orderly and peaceful and must represent constructive alternatives reasonably presented.
3. Coercion, threats, demands, obscenity, vulgarity, obstructionism, and violence are not acceptable.
4. Demonstrations, marches, sit-ins, or noisy protests that are designed to or that do disrupt normal institutional pursuits are not permitted.
5. Classes and routine operations will not be suspended except for reasonable cause as determined by the president.
6. Administrators, faculty, staff, and students are expected to abide by these standards of conduct in promoting their views, particularly dissent.
7. Persons who oppose these policies should not become associated with Emory nor continue to be associated with Emory.
8. Academic and administrative procedures protect individuals in the right of free expression and provide for prompt and appropriate action against those who abuse such right.

Board of Counselors

The Board of Counselors for Oxford College of Emory University had its original meeting on June 4, 1971. The purpose of this group of alumni and friends is “to receive information about the college and to consult with the dean and other officers. The board is asked to help interpret the program and objectives of Oxford College, to assist with fund-raising for the college’s priority projects, to bring to the officers of the college a reflection of opinions that will help guide the college, and to share ideas concerning resources development for the college. The overall objective is to improve and increase the service of Oxford College.”

Oxford College Alumni Association

The purpose of the Oxford College Alumni Association (Alumni Board) is to support and promote educational excellence at Oxford College by creating and sustaining a mechanism through which Oxford College can communicate regularly with and serve its alumni, as well as a means through which alumni may communicate with and serve Oxford College.

The association is made up of class agents who are the Alumni Board representatives for their Oxford graduation year. They are asked to inform and educate their classmates about Oxford, to provide information about Oxford's ongoing activities and future plans, and to support Oxford's fund-raising efforts. Oxford class agents choose to volunteer, serve, and act as stewards for Oxford College and the University. Without their help, we could not educate, inform, and build relationships with Oxford alumni.
